AWFUL HOLOCAUST

The Indiana Surgical Institute Catches Fire and Proves a Veritable Death Trap.

As a Result, Nineteen Are Dead and Two Score or More Dangerously Injured.

Terrible Responsibility Resting Upon the Owners of the Ill Fated Building.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 22.—At least 19 persons were killed, and more than 20 others fatally injured, as the result of a fire in the Indiana Surgical Institute at this place last night. Thus far 16 bodies have been taken from the ruins and it is more than likely that the remains of many more of the inmates of the institution are buried under the charred timbers.

A terrible responsibility rests upon the owners of the institute. It was a veritable death trap. The halls were narrow and there were no proper exits to be used in case of fire. The Surgical Institute, a large 4-story brick building, was located at the corner of South Illinois and Georgia streets. Immediately to the rear was another 4-story building, which contained the offices and dining rooms, while on the third and fourth floors were wards devoted to the care of women and children. The fire was discovered at midnight and three alarms were brought out the entire department. When the department arrived and turned in on Georgia street the scene that was presented beggarly description. From the second, third and fourth story windows, women clad in their night robes were clinging, crying out in their horror and desperation at the prospect of death, either from the roaring, crackling flames or from a jump to the ground below with the aid of the fire escape.

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Patriotic and Opportune Editorial from the Pen of Mr. Dana.

New York, Jan. 22.—The Sun today says editorially: We believe that the work of the navy and war departments during the past six months is a marvel of administrative energy and patriotic vigilance. And yet it is this very activity, not inviting a conflict but following the first principles of national prudence and the ordinary laws of common sense, which furnishes the chief ground of the mugwump attack on men who are doing their duty. Consider two propositions:

If war is averted and the government of Chile makes proper preparation for the Valparaiso outrage, it will be for no other reason than because we are ready. If war came, and in spite of the warning events of the past three months this country were not prepared for the conflict, the men whom the non-Americans are now criticizing for doing their duty would deserve to be impeached. They would deserve to be hanged.

Go ahead, servants of the people. You are right. Your work is for peace and the country is with you.

GOES TO CHICAGO.

Chicago Plucks the Convention Perimeter Away From St. Paul.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—When the balloting for the national democratic convention began last evening, the interest became intense. The Arlington hotel corridors were crowded with delegates from the various cities, and as their city showed gains, the corridors resounded with cheers. It soon became apparent, however, that the committee was connected with several cities. St. Paul's hopes were dashed by leading in the fourth ballot with 13 votes, only to be dashed on the subsequent ballots.

Perhaps the worst collapse was that of Detroit which, on the sixth ballot, received 10 votes, while on the next it dropped to 1. The men from Milwaukee were perhaps the noisiest and sent the air when the Badger state capital received 20 votes on the ninth ballot.

The fifteenth ballot, it was announced that the Chicago bid, 27 votes, and the convention, the crowd in the corridors were fairly struck dumb. That a city which had not even asked for the convention should be selected was an unexplainable. The Milwaukee, St. Paul and Detroit delegates went on the sidewalks and cheered for Cleveland. Resolutions thanking Hon. W. Dickinson and the local reception committee for the excellent care and attention to the national committee were adopted and at 11:45 the convention adjourned.

Work of the Big Four. The longer the situation is considered the more apparent it becomes that the decision of Chicago as the place for holding the next national democratic convention was the work of the senatorial "big four," Gorman, Hill, Bruce and Barber.

Flint Glass Factories Close. PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22.—Twenty-one Flint glass factories have decided to shut down for an indefinite period. This action is the result of employment 2500 men and boys. The cause assigned is over production and inability to make a satisfactory agreement on freight rates. Ten factories have already closed and the fires will be extinguished in the other eleven by the end of the week.

A Town Wiped Out. CELINA, Ohio, Jan. 22.—The town of Ohio City, 15 miles from here, was totally destroyed by fire this morning. The fire originated in the hardware store of J. Miller. It is supposed to be of incendiary origin. Loss, $30,000.

Miss Willard Protests. CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Miss Francis E. Willard, president of the national W. C. T. U., yesterday telegraphed President Harrison, in the name of 2000 members, a protest against war with Chile.

Mrs. F. C. Fleishman, of London, who recently went to Milwaukee, in the hope of benefiting her eyesight, is recovering. G. C. Steele, of Smith, Farwell & Steele, leaves tonight for the Eastern furniture market in quest of a spring stock.

Roderick Marchison, the genial secretary of the board of public works, who has been confined to his room with the grip, is once more able to be at his post. F. W. Hewins, president of the Massachusetts Real Estate company and treasurer of the Boston Investment company, is in the city. The companies he represents are large holders of property in the Third ward, in which they will expend a great deal of money the coming season in improving.

We Want Your Application. For money on improved and unimproved property. Bring it in now and get low rates and quick answer. The money is here. Wm. Barton Chapin, 8 Phoenix blk.

TOUCHED BY DEATH

Joseph P. Bradley, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Dies of Old Age.

Appointed to the Bench in 1870, Serving Throughout With Distinguished Ability.

After Announcing the Melancholy News, Chief Justice Fuller Adjourns the Court.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Joseph P. Bradley, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, died at 6:15 this morning at his residence, of general debility. Justice Bradley was in the 70th year of his age. He had been ill for several months from general break down. On Monday he grew worse and has since failed rapidly.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at his late residence in this city, and the body will be taken Sunday night to Newark by special train.

Joseph P. Bradley was born in Berne, Albany county, N. Y., March 14, 1813. He is of English descent. His father, Philo Bradley, was a farmer and possessed a considerable library which Joseph made constant use of.

His love of study attracted the attention of the clergymen of the village who offered to prepare him for college. This invitation he accepted and at the age of twenty Mr. Bradley entered Rutgers, where he was graduated with honor in 1836. His professional career was attended throughout with great success.

In March, 1870, he was appointed by President Grant a justice of the supreme court of the United States and was designated circuit justice for the large southern district. Subsequently on the resignation of Justice Strong, he was assigned to the third circuit, embracing the states of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

During his membership of the supreme court a very large number of cases have been brought into it, involving questions arising out of civil wars, the reconstruction and other acts of congress, the constitutional amendments and other subjects. In the discharge of his duties, his acquaintance with English and American law was extensive, and his habit of looking beyond the rule for the reason of the principle upon which it is founded, so constant, that his opinions have been of high value.

The Supreme Court Adjourns. The supreme court was draped in black at the hour of opening today. Chief Justice Fuller at noon called the court to order and in sad tones announced the death of Justice Bradley and that the court would adjourn until Tuesday when motions would come up which are not yet decided.

BIG IRON CONTRACT. A Deal That Will Help Consume the Products of Our Mines. PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22.—A transaction by Carnegie Bros. & Co. with two Western firms involving over $3,000,000 is announced. Upwards of 1,000,000 tons of ore are contracted for by the big Bessemer plant.

E. C. Pope, of Cleveland, is the broker for several iron ore concerns operated in the Northwest in the Lake Superior region and through him an order amounting to $1,500,000 was placed by the Carnegies, while an equally large amount was taken from Minneapolis mines. The ore which is mined in the Gogebic range, on Lake Superior, is considered to be the best ore for Bessemer steel rails. The Chandler ore, which is taken from the mines in Minnesota, is also good, and the two are generally mixed. The large orders, now on the books of Carnegie & Co. for steel rails and the increased business anticipated in that line, are the chief reasons for a purchase of such magnitude.

SILVER MEN JUBILANT. John Bull Invited to Join in an International Silver Conference. New York, Jan. 22.—A special to the Herald from Washington says Minister Lincoln has been instructed to invite Great Britain to join an international conference on silver questions, now in his opinion, the feeling of the English cabinet is such as to justify the invitation.

The dissemination of this news about the capitol yesterday caused great gratification among the silver men. The instructions to Minister Lincoln were dispatched by direction of the President 10 days ago.

These Were Hanged. DANVILLE, Jan. 22.—James Lyles and Margaret J. Lashley, colored, were hanged here at 11:32 a. m. today for the murder of George Lashley, husband of the woman. The murder occurred in 1890. The woman enticed her husband out of doors knowing that her lover Lyles was waiting concealed to shoot Lashley.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—At Camden, Ala., today Robert Carter was hanged for the murder of his wife, Julia, June 22, last. Carter had been divorced from two wives and shot his third one on account of jealousy while she was going to her mother's funeral with another man. Carter died game.

Will Not Recall Egan. WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The request of the Chilean government for the recall of Minister Egan, which is about to be made through Minister Montt, is not likely to be granted. It can be said that under no circumstances will Mr. Egan be recalled while the relations between the United States and Chile are strained as at present. President Harrison is entirely satisfied with Mr. Egan's course and representative and has repeatedly stated so in private conversation.

Quay's Libellers. PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22.—After the opening of court this morning Attorney Ferguson, representing the Post, addressed the jury. He was followed by Attorney Marshall, representing Senator Quay. The addresses occupied the entire morning session of the court. At 1 o'clock this afternoon Judge Porter delivered his charge to the jury. The case is a verdict will be rendered this afternoon.

THE POLICE COURT. "Cap" Savage Fined $15 for Being Drunk and Disorderly; Other Drunks.

The police court, which for several days has been idle for want of a victim to run through the mill, resumed business at the old stand this morning. Cap. Savage, who is rapidly extending his acquaintance in police circles, was up again charged with being drunk and disorderly. A fine of $15 was imposed and this with $2 in costs was paid. A Johnson, who lives at the west end suffered yesterday with the grip and by the doctor's orders took some whisky. Shortly after a stalwart policeman had the grip though Mr. Johnson was still the one to be fined. The prisoner on this morning pleaded not guilty and will have a hearing this afternoon. A. G. Reynolds, a plain drunk, paid $10. John Patterson and Mike Flood, who yesterday had nothing about him to suggest water but his name, were found guilty of intoxication and sent up for 10 days each.

$5 Plea. The candidates for the coming city election are beginning to come into the pool. The cost is not excessive as the ante is only $5 but every candidate must pay it before his name can appear upon the ticket. Mr. Mannheim has already paid his money but has also one or two other alumnus candidates. The fees for the nominees of the republican and democratic convention will be paid in a lump by the officers of the city organization from assessments made upon the candidates. The peoples party are not yet in but will present their petitions and money today.

There seems to have been some misunderstanding regarding the number of names necessary for a petition. The law requires 1 per cent of the voters at the last election. In the opinion of the city attorney this means the last general election, otherwise since no party lines were drawn at the bond election, the republican and democratic parties would have to secure places on the ticket by petition. The number of names required for a petition for mayor is 31.

Tomorrow is the last day for paying money or presenting petitions. So far as the city clerk is concerned, the polls close then.

Saturday Club. The program for tomorrow's meeting of the Saturday club is as follows: "Gothic Sculpture and Painting".....Mrs. Mead
"The Renaissance, When it Introduced into Germany and by Whom".....Miss Minnie Lee
"Berlin and its History".....Mrs. F. E. Barrett
A paper will be read on "Social Life in the German Capital."

A Park Board Member. A member of the park board to take the place of W. K. Rogers is to be appointed this month by Mayor Davis, acting with Judge Ensign. The appointment must be made before Feb. 1. No one has yet been settled on, though it is certain that someone from the east end will be named. The west end already has a member, Mr. Helm, and the central part of the city two, Messrs. Silverstein and Mendenhall. The vacancy will probably be tendered to Judge Hale, though it is somewhat doubtful if he will accept it.

Col. Parker's Lecture. Col. Francis W. Parker who addresses the citizens of Duluth in the High school lecture course tomorrow night on "The Child," has been invited to address the National Educational association in Brooklyn next month. He is one of the leading educators of the country and will greatly interest our people. He should have a full house.

District Court Notes. Jacques & Hudson have begun suit against T. C. Swenson to recover $88 for professional services. Notes of issue in 13 cases have been filed for tomorrow's special term.

Judge Ayer who has been seriously ill is much improved though he will not be able to come to his office for some time.

More Citizens. Citizenship papers were granted today to Peter Hanson, Chas. Sokerson, Frank Carlson, Karl Green, and Olof Oleson.

Midwinter sale of business suits—$48 suits for $38, $45 and $50 suits for $35, $38 and $35 suits for $32 for this month at J. S. ABE'S.

Merchant Tailor. 430 Spaulding block. Go and hear Col. Parker's High school lecture on "The Child." Temple Opera Saturday night, 25 cents.

Have you seen the terrace drive souvenir spoons at Day's, 315 West Superior street. Go and hear Col. Parker's High school lecture on "The Child." Temple Opera Saturday night, 25 cents.

CLARK (CLARK)

SOME "SNAPS."

Is There Any Money in Duluth For Investment in Genuine "Snaps"?

in Real Estate?

Most real estate agents say that it is utterly useless and a waste of money to advertise real estate for sale in such dull times as these. They say that when it is well understood that almost everything "in sight" is for sale, it is hardly worth while to call attention to the fact

Perhaps they are correct, in the main, but as there is just as much money in the country now as during the flush times of two years ago, and as there is some little trading going on all the time and as my impression is that purchasers like the very best bargains that are attainable even in the very dulllest times, as well as during more lively periods, I am strongly inclined to believe that even during the present stagnant times, it will pay an agent to advertise—provided, that there are any buyers, at all, in the field—whenever he has anything for sale that is really below the market. At any rate, I have concluded to try what the effect would be of my advertising for a short time, some of the numerous extraordinary bargains that I have to offer; and in this connection, I would just call the attention to the fact that these dull times cannot last always and they evidently will not last much longer, and it is certain that property can be bought in Duluth cheaper now than it can ever be bought again, as long as the world shall stand. Now, just look over this list, please, and see what it contains which strikes your fancy:

SNAP No. 1. The east half of block 96 Endion.

SNAP No. 2. 100 feet on southwest corner of block 95, Endion. (If there is any handsome residence proper-

D'AUTREMONT FOR MAYOR.

The candidates are all in the field, the last hour at which, under the law, their names can be presented, is now past, the issues are made up, and with an earnest, thoughtful survey of the situation, sincerely seeking the right, and with the interests of Duluth foremost in his thought, The Herald, with charity for all and malice toward none, but in keeping with its high resolve to permit no friend or foe to stand between it and the great-good of all, takes its stand today, the first impartial and intelligent opportunity afforded an independent paper, squarely on the side of Charles d'Autre-mont for the highest office in our city's gift.

In doing so, a decent regard for the opinions of those who will decide the contest requires that we should briefly state the causes which impel us to such action.
The Herald from the first has held that there should be no party lines in local politics. In this it was overruled, and when it saw the forces crystallizing along party lines it urged the nomination of good men, in which it finds itself in part successful.

Four candidates for mayor are in the field, one of whom, Mr. Manheim, cannot reasonably expect the votes of as many men as it required names to make his petition legal. Like the Lord's, his ways are past finding out; albeit they have no other serious resemblance.

As to Mr. Long, nominee of the republican ganglia, he is utterly unworthy the support of an honest man of any party, and The Herald could not afford to stu-tify itself and make an unconditional surrender of its integrity and manhood by an endeavor to thrust upon our city a boastful, dangerous, mercenary candidate who would salivate our people and be spewed out at last by the best interests of Duluth.

In choosing between d'Autremont and Davis there will be some hesitation among the best citizens of Duluth.
Their duty is to decide on election day.
The Herald must take its position in advance. The natural support of both, together with their character and fitness for the place, and the future as well as immediate interests of Duluth, have entered fully and thoughtfully into the conclusion.

The Herald believes, as it has heretofore asserted, that a city is best governed when a majority of its people are back of the administration and therefore responsible for its action.

The Herald, therefore, deploring a multitude of candidates which may throw the control of the city into the hands of a minority, and that minority be manipulated by the skillful hand of unworthy bosses. The votes must therefore be concentrated on some one man.

The Herald is abidingly satisfied that of the candidates in the field C. d'Autre-mont is best qualified for the place he seeks; that he would give the city administration in every way as good and in some respects better than we have today. In moral character it would be even and high toned, dealing with all social evils in a way to command the respect of every man, while at the same time he would prove a wise and careful guardian of our business interests, alert to every wrong and alive to the good of all.

The Herald believes that a solidified and harmonious republican party would be for the interests of Duluth, and that the success of a third party at this time would push that cause to the rear, and years away by the introduction of a disturbance and unknown quantity into our most vital municipal affairs.

The Herald therefore holds that in the utter unworthiness of the republican nominee and the superior fitness of Mr. d'Autremont on whom the democratic choice has fallen, that the present and prospective weal of the city dictates the choice that we have made today.

From now till the polls close on election day The Herald will present in a candid way the case which we have here but outlined, treating its opponents with all due regard, but hesitating at no time to speak all truth proper and pertinent to the contest.

We believe the outcome of the election will be a victory for our forces and a triumph for Duluth. We ask of the voter the same candid consideration we have given the subject and repeat to every one those well-worn words:

First of all to thine own self be true;
And then it follows as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man.

Already the republican ganglia are sick of Long and feel that a bad blunder has been made. John Sutphin is too good a citizen, when he takes a second thought, to give aid and comfort to such a scourge upon our city. With a whole week to think in, we are confident he will come out manfully for the right and clear his skirts of the barnacles that now gladly fatten on his political anatomy. While it is perhaps too late to give him an important position in the d'Autremont campaign, we know that he is honest and that he would be glad to vote for an honest man. But he can't do it without scratching his ticket. Put the past in cold storage, John, and come over and do what the gods will reward you for.

The inability of the leaders to raise a Long campaign fund last night, showed itself very plainly in the columns of the Tribune this morning. The flouting extracts occupied their usual place, but there was nothing that needed discussion. The only thing it said editorially in defense of Long was this: "The Greeks had the grip 470 years, B. C. This is another Russian claim knocked out." As this is strictly non-partisan, we let it pass. The other candidates are now trembling lest the Tribune should support them and thus ruin their chances.
They needn't fear, however, for our contemporary has one redeeming feature, it would not do even a mean thing without pay.

As prosecuting attorney of St. Louis county, C. d'Autremont made a record for nerve, firmness and faithfulness to duty, without fear or favor, that has not been paralleled in the history of our town. Disregarding personal feeling and financial interest he pursued a manly course that won the esteem of all. As mayor he would make a strong and able chief of our growing city, would be true to himself and the best interests of Duluth, and would give us a government vigorous and thorough in all departments, ever guided by wisdom and met-ing out justice between man and man.

The colored citizens of Duluth through their political club last night very justly condemned the attack of Delegate Lewis in the republican convention upon Mayor Davis and Judge Morris. The colored people of this city are a thoughtful, law-abiding class who have no more sympathy with criminal crack shooters than any of the rest of us. Their action is commendable regardless of their political affiliations. Nothing is more ennobling in any man than to stand for right and justice regardless of color or condition. The Herald congratulates them on their prompt and manly course.

We think it would greatly strengthen the candidacy of our friend Charles Long for mayor, if he would forthwith resign his seat in the city council. No one will have any confidence in his claim of a sure election unless he does so. There is not a minute to lose. In the words of J. Sloat Fassett, one thing at a time. Roswell Pettibone Flower also followed suit. Can Charles Alexander Long afford to do less?

Remember next Tuesday is the last registration day. Don't fail to be among the faithful. You owe it to yourself to take an active interest in the city. If you can't agree with The Herald, try to agree with yourself and vote as your judgment dictates. If your right suffrage were taken away, you would weep like the voice of many waters. Be not neglectful of your duty nor recreant to your sacred trust.

The Herald would do no injustice to Mayor Davis and his administration. In many ways he has served the city well, and whether chosen again or not, his rule will be remembered with some regard. At present, however, it seems essential to array the forces against the common enemy of Duluth, and we believe this end can be best attained by getting as many as possible in line for d'Autremont, the most likely winner.

The junk shop campaign in the Sixth ward has in a measure collapsed by the withdrawal of C. F. Hopkins, the democratic candidate. The distribution of old clothes and the incidental adverising he received have made Charles so popular that his increased law business requires all his time. This is victory enough for one contest.

The Herald has taken its stand for d'Autremont in this contest not without the most careful and earnest consideration of the issues at stake in all their bearings immediate and remote upon the interests of Duluth, and in doing so finds pleasure in the fact that it can sign itself sincerely yours,

When the republican bosses tried to make a door mat of Judge Morris and really tried their feet on him, they didn't know that he was going to rise up right away and make them bite the dust.
They have so much gravel in their mouths yet that their teeth grate.

The rumor that the Short Line and Tribune were to be flopped over to Davis, unless something happened, is the worst news we have heard for the mayor, who is worthy of a better fate.
He has the support of the morning nemesis now, and that's enough.

The Tribune says the republicans are "working like beavers" for Long. From what we have read of the architectural habits of that busy little animal we therefore take it that the republican frabits are constructing a damn with their tale of woe.

Union laboring men will hardly waste their time to vote for the candidates of our non-union contemporaries. It is unfortunate for the News and Tribune that while preaching the interests of labor they practice quite another thing.

Some one calls Judge Morris' speech in the republican convention a banked up whirlwind. Sure it is that those who jumped onto him are now holding their tongues in eleven different languages.

Under the circumstances the election of d'Autremont is demanded by the best and broadest interest of Duluth. The forces should be concentrated against the triumph of trick artists.

The Campaign for Charles Long is the biggest game of crap that has been played in Duluth for many a day. Don't join in the deal unless you are anxious to be done up.

The ganglia now say the campaign is too long for them, but if they will wait till election day they will discover a political paradox in the fact that Long is short.

Geo. F. Ash is making a good run in the Third ward, and the only way the opposition can catch him is to get him up a tree.

Charles Long's campaign will be opened tonight with a lesson in philosophy at the Minnesota house.

POSTAL PARTICULARS.

Something About the Business of the Duluth Postoffice Last Year.

We all know the Western story about the man who inquired for the postoffice of Roaring Camp, and who found that governmental department in the breach pocket of a man engaged in a game of poker in the Gold Mine saloon, and while Duluth's postoffice have never been chased around in that unbecoming manner yet they have been, until the last decade, very primitive affairs.
The Duluth postoffice of today suffers sadly for want of more room and a larger clerical force. Postmaster Julius D. Howard will shortly issue his annual report of the business of his office. From an advance glance at the figures it is learned that the various employees in all departments number 35, of which 19 are regular and 3 substitute carriers. The total number of lock pouches and postal bags of mail received and dispatched during the year is 75,020, and in first class mail matter alone 3,296,000 pieces have been handled in the year. The mailing division and the carriers have delivered 6,075,167 pieces. Six buildings in the city are provided with the very best mail chutes, there are four street letter boxes in use and the carriers make an aggregate of 138 delivery and collection trips daily. The registry division has received and dispatched 45,317 letters and parcels, and 424 special delivery letters have been received or dispatched. The number of letters and newspapers sent to the dead letter office was 10,370. The money order division issued 16,340 money orders and postal notes aggregating $148,514.77, and it paid 6714 orders and notes aggregating $78, 731.33, and the savings money order division remitted to the government amounted to $68,503, leaving a balance on hand to meet orders and postal notes of $102,754. In the general postal account the receipts from all sources were $6,205,18 and the expenses were $2,077,53, leaving the actual profits of the Duluth office at the handsome
the business of 1891 with that of the preceding year shows a large increase in every branch of the service, and while the work has been greatly increased, the percentage of expense to the government has been greatly reduced.

So say the physicians.

Physicians use and recommend it.

Dr. J. H. Hanaford, whose writings in The Household, Health and Home, and other journals of national circulation have followed his good advice on matters of health, and a physician whose standing is very high in the profession, has written the following letter to the Wells & Richardson Co., of Burlington, "The formula of Paine's celery compound, which you submitted me was so satisfactory, that I have used the medicine personally with much benefit. I have prescribed it with most excellent results. One of my patients today assured me that it is the best medicine that he ever took, calming his nerves wonderfully."

It was only the other day that the Boston Herald and other papers in that city were telling under big headlines the story of the case of Mary E. Gilman, a case that the medical journals had printed a great deal about. For years she had been a great sufferer from neuralgia, and she could not stand or walk without great pain. She had been attended by the best physicians, including Dr. A. W. K. Newton, the well-known Boston surgeon.

They tried everything, but she got no relief until she used Paine's celery compound. That entirely cured her. This was several months ago and since that time she says the correspondent of the current number of one of the medical journals, she has had no trouble. The surgeon, Dr. Newton, who examined her told the Boston reporters that the woman was undoubtedly completely cured. He spoke freely in favor of Paine's celery compound, saying that he and other physicians frequently prescribed it with unflinching success.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

Some Idea of What the Powers that Be Have Been Doing During the Past Year.

Many Important Works Completed and Many Others in Various Stages of Embryonic Being.

Streets Paved, Sidewalks Laid, Sewers Built, and a General Revision of Municipal Integral Progress.

The public improvements set on foot and carried out by the municipal authorities of Duluth during 1921, represented an expenditure of nearly $500,000 of the people's money. That, in the main, it has been well spent no one can deny, but that there have been some few places where the working expense might have been curtailed will likewise find some champions. However, the work has been well done, and the executive ability of those supervising the work cannot be called in question. A number of important works have been about completed—the approach to the bridge over the St. Paul & Duluth tracks near Oneta, the approaches to the Sixth avenue viaduct, the improvement of Fourth street east and west, and the reclaiming of Garfield avenue from an almost impassable desert of drifting sand and its forced evolution into a well paved, perfectly level thoroughfare, thronged with vehicles of business and pleasure. Then, too, Duluth's Apian way, commonly known as Piedmont avenue, has received quite a liberal share of preparatory work, and the most pronounced doubting Thomases can but admit that the city fathers will make of its serpentine contour a thing of beauty, if not of great utility.

The itemized work for 1921 includes the removal of 35,385 cubic yards of earth and 34,280 cubic yards of rock from the various streets and avenues. Nearly 11 miles (10.86) of various kinds of stone curbing were placed in position and 1,388 cubic yards of gravel and 768 cubic yards of loam were used. Brick and stone masonry aggregating 14,150 cubic yards were constructed. The street paving work is shown in 113,660 square yards of cedar block pavement and 43,102 square yards of the telford construction. In various classes of work 167 piles were driven, and there were 1,603,225 feet (board measure) of timber used in the construction of wooden approaches, the last single item involving a cost of $23,510.27. Street grading is represented by 1,491 miles completed during the year. Sanitary sewers show 4.66 miles constructed, and storm sewers have a total of 3.88 miles. There were 162 miles of plank sidewalks constructed.

The value of the work done by the city as shown by the board of public works, during 1921 is divided into different branches as follows:

Streets and avenues	$17,222.17
Sanitary sewers	$5,224.06
Storm sewers	$18,053.43
Sidewalks (plank) built	$1,454.42

Total.....$40,954.08

As a comparative showing the expenditures for several years, the totals for the same work during the past few years are given as follows: In 1920, the amount was $47,806,511; in 1919, it was $51,708,000; in 1918, it was $70,520,767; and in 1917, it was $55,559,449, or a total for the five years of $314,546,147.

Several estimates of work completed in 1921 have been made, but no yet authorized paid by the council, the actual amounts paid out under the special heads being as follows: Streets, $17,222.17; sanitary sewers, $5,224.06; storm sewers, $18,053.43; for sidewalks, $1,454.42, leaving a balance of $43,377.27 yet due for work done during the past year.

A large number of very important works are either in progress, or are complete or under consideration, among which may be mentioned the Lake avenue viaduct, the new bridge over the government artery and a considerable amount of street and avenue work. Duluth is rapidly rising in relative rank among the beautiful cities of the nation, and although the work necessary to keep up that advancement is costly yet the per capita of the city and the economy has not been lost sight of in the conducting of her extensive municipal improvement and corporate life.

SATURDAY SOCIAL.

A Poor Week From a Social Standpoint; Some Social Events.

Social events of any magnitude have been extremely rare during the past week, in fact there have been almost none. Some very pleasant parties have been held, but all while enjoyable were rather small and informal. There have been, however, some quasi-social events which deserve mention. One of these was the Bethel art loan concert, which closed the exhibit on Wednesday evening. The program was a short one, but of excellent quality. Mr. Sydney Brown, Miss McDonald, Miss Mackay and Miss Mac Sibley are all too well known to need praise. Together they can make up a program such as one, even at professional concerts, seldom hears. The Endless concert given last night was also one of marked excellence.

Pauline Hall in "Madame Favart." Pauline Hall and her opera company will appear at the Lyceum on Monday in a grand revival of Offenbach's opera comique "Madame Favart." The indications already are that "Madame Favart" will prove eminently successful. Excellent judgment has been shown in selecting this opera. It is one of the few comic operas that have a good story line. The story hinges upon the many and varied adventures of Madame Favart, of whom the Marshal de Saxe has become enamored. The music is acknowledged to be the lightest and most popular of any of Offenbach's many musical works. Miss Hall, in the title role, will appear to great advantage, she never having played a part before that gives her so much scope for acting and singing. She is obliged to impersonate numerous characters in the opera, namely: A French peasant girl, a waitress, a court lady, a soubrette, an old countess, a Tyrolean peddler boy and Venus. Her costumes and dresses for these characters will be tasteful and costly. The orchestra is the original one used in Paris, Berlin and London, and the whole production will be equal to any given in Europe. On Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Miss Hall will present a double bill, Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial by Jury" and "La Belle Helene."

Edward Waldo Emerson. Mr. Emerson, who is to lecture here next Tuesday evening, is the son of that most modest and gifted writer and deepest thinker of the age, Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Born in the old Emerson homestead in Concord, where he lived until recently, he was constantly in contact with the greatest literary minds of the age, for no home on the American continent has extended its hospitality to so many noted men and women as that of the Emersons. Then he grew to the Emersons, having for intimate friends the Alcotts, Sanborns and a host of others like W. T. Harris and D. C. French, whose names are familiar to all. It is not at all strange that with this environment, Mr. Emerson should select literature for his life work. For three or four years he has been lecturing to New England audiences with great success, and now he proposes to extend his field to the West. That Duluth has enough people interested in the best in literature and art to give him a generous hearing there can be no doubt.

The Unity Club. The Unity club at their meeting of Monday will discuss the question of "Hypnotism." The leaders are Dr. H. Collin and Dr. W. W. Routh.

Machine an Empire. Jan. 18, 1871, the German Empire was proclaimed. That is the official date of its creation. But it had been a good deal longer making. From the time when Frederick the Great, king of Prussia, a name and place among the powers of Europe; during the long years while Napoleon Bonaparte and his successors were preparing the master strokes of diplomacy and arms; till Sadova revealed to astonished Europe, Prussia as the superior of Austria. Five years more, and Napoleon Third stood up to try conclusions with the new power. How he was overwhelmed and defeated by the sudden whirlwind is a matter of history—and yet it seems farther back than 20 years ago.

BLAINE AND CHILE

The Correspondence Between the State Department and the Little Republic.

Sent to Congress and Given to the Public Through the Columns of the Herald Today.

The Baltimore Affair, the Attitude of Egan, and the Course of our Government in the Matter.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The Chilean correspondence from the department of state forms a volume of several hundred printed pages. It begins with Minister Egan's dispatch of Aug. 15, 1890, notifying the department of the beginning of the controversy between the executive and legislative departments of the Chilean government resulting finally in the overthrow of President Balmaceda. The revolution was proclaimed Jan. 6, 1891, in the name of the national congress. The progress of events was closely followed by Egan and reported. On Jan. 17 he telegraphed that the congressional fleet was about to blockade the Chilean ports. He advised consuls to protest and said the squadron was needed for the protection of United States interests. April 25 the arrival of Admiral McCann at Talcahuano on the Pensacola was reported.

Previous to this Mr. Egan had reported the uniform kindness and courtesy shown to him and the United States consuls in Chile by the government. On March 8 he telegraphed the minister for foreign affairs urgently requesting that the government of the United States permit one of our ships to call at Valparaiso to Montevideo a sum of about $400,000 bar silver which was required for the payment of the interest on the national debt abroad, the Chilean government fearing its capture by the revolted fleet if the sum were sent in the regular course of business. Consent for this was not given, and on July 28 Mr. Egan informed Mr. Blaine that the British warship, Espiegle, was placed at the disposal of the Chilean government for that purpose and that the Espiegle was placed aboard at Talcahuano. Pending a reply to this message Mr. Egan was advised that the Pensacola had arrived at Valparaiso, that the Baltimore was about to depart from Montevideo and that the San Francisco would sail from San Francisco on March 23.

Believed in Balmaceda's Strength. Mr. Egan wrote that the revolutionists could not command over 4000 or 5000 troops, while the government had 30,000. April 21 Mr. Egan telegraphed that the Chilean government urgently requested the United States to consider the overthrow of the Chilean minister in Washington for the purchase of a man-of-war. His reply was that the United States had no vessels to sell.

April 24 Mr. Egan asked if he could offer mediation in connection with the Brazilian and French ministers to restore peace, stating his belief that it would be acceptable. Secretary Blaine, April 25, authorized him so to act, and in a note of April 26 expressed a hope that the mediation would result in the restoration of peace.

Mr. Egan informed Mr. Blaine that the government of the United States had been cordially accepted by the government of Chile in the revolution, those of England and Germany having been the only ones who could they be accepted in that case or any other of like nature. He did not doubt the sincerity, rectitude or honesty of the revolutionists, but he was more, but would recognize only the jurisdiction and majority of his own country in judgment and punish the guilty on Chilean territory.

In a letter to Mr. Egan, dated Oct. 22, Captain Schley gave a detailed account of the attack upon the Baltimore's sailors by the Chilean authorities, no proof of their guilt being furnished.

Egan Congratulated Montt. Mr. Egan called Nov. 9 upon Senator Jorge Montt, president of the junta, and congratulated him upon his nomination to the presidency of the republic. He was, he informed Mr. Blaine, cordially received, and Senator Montt begged him to convey to the United States his warmest acknowledgments under the new order of things. Mr. Egan expressed the state department's feelings toward the United States would be improved.

Congress reorganized the government Dec. 10, each member of the junta being recognized.

Nov. 16, in response to questions, Mr. Egan informed the state department that he had supposed the revolutionists at the legation at their own expense, then amounting to more than $5000. Nov. 17, he reported that he was compelled to complain that the secret police who had been watching the legation for two weeks had become boisterous under the influence of liquor, and from the street used insulting language toward the refugees. Mr. Matta replied, denying that the disturbers were police spies and said drunkards created the disturbance. He said a report from the intendente of Santiago showed that Mr. Egan was not well informed. He charged that persons who were employees of the legation were nominating for the presidency and reprisals not pleasing to the rights or the decorum of anybody.

Matta's Statement Contradicted. To this Mr. Egan responded that the facts complained of were known to him personally and were matters of public notoriety. Mr. Egan replied in spirited terms, denying the connection of any person in the legation with the disorders, and insisting that they were undoubtedly agents of the public authorities. Motions for impeachment against six of the former cabinet ministers were made in congress at Santiago Dec. 3. The grounds were treason, breaking the constitution, violating the laws, subversion and malversation of public funds. Three of the six were refugees at the legation, and by this time they had been expelled, "they hoped to have them delivered up."

In this connection the effort to make it appear that Mr. Egan had neglected or refused to give evidence in the Blaine case is interesting. December 3 Mr. Blaine telegraphed to Mr. Egan to report who asked him for his testimony

President Mr. Wharton telegraphed Minister Egan Sept. 26 to insist firmly that the respect and inviolability due the minister of the United States and the legation buildings, including tree access, be given and observed fully and promptly by the Chilean authorities.

Respect Demanded for Minister Egan. "The government of the United States," continued Mr. Wharton's dispatch, "is prepared to consider in a friendly spirit the question whether asylum has, under the circumstances, been properly given to the persons now at the legation, when the facts are more fully before it, but it cannot allow to pass without a firm protest the evidence of disrespect toward a minister, which Mr. Egan reported. It is expected that this protest will be followed by prompt action on the part of the authorities of Chile."

Minister Egan said: "I have taken the position that they entered into the legation legitimately, as has been admitted by the minister and the said relations, and that whatever may be the convenience to me personally I will not, either directly or indirectly, adopt toward them any course not in accordance with the principles of hospitality and humanity which should characterize the legation of the United States."

Other Legations Treated Differently. The dispatch closed with a showing of the different treatment accorded the refugees who found shelter in other legations. Minister Matta, Sept. 30, again refused safe conductor permission to leave the country to the refugees in the United States legation. Respecting the charges of conspiracy, Oct. 1, Mr. Egan was informed that the president desires to establish and maintain friendly relations with Chile, but the right of asylum having been tacitly, if not expressly, allowed to other foreign legations, and having been exercised by our minister with the old government in the interest and for the safety of the adherents of the party now in power, the President cannot but regard the application of another minister accompanied by disrespect to our legation, as the manifestation of a most unfriendly spirit.

Mr. Egan is instructed to furnish a copy of this to the minister of foreign affairs and to take the utmost precaution to prevent any abuse of the privilege of asylum by those to whom it has been extended. The attack on the Baltimore's Men. Coming to the attack on the sailors of the Baltimore and its consequences, the first notification was in a telegram from Minister Egan, dated Oct. 18, the night having occurred on the 16th. On the 18th he transmitted to the department of state Capt. Schley's letter to Minister Egan and to the intendente, that the attack was unprovoked and premeditated.

Coming to the attack on the sailors of the Baltimore and its consequences, the first notification was in a telegram from Minister Egan, dated Oct. 18, the night having occurred on the 16th. On the 18th he transmitted to the department of state Capt. Schley's letter to Minister Egan and to the intendente, that the attack was unprovoked and premeditated.

in the Baltimore case, which, according to telegraphic advices to the Chilean minister from the foreign office, was requested of him 20 days ago and not given. Mr. Egan replied the next day at some length, that the statement of the Chilean foreign office was incorrect. Pending further instructions Mr. Egan notified the state department on Dec. 17 that he had suspended communications with the Chilean foreign office.

THE MARK ASSIGNMENT. F. McIver to Succeed J. A. Collins as Assignee Under an Order From the Court.

The application for the removal of J. A. Collins, assignee of A. Mark, came up before Judge Ensign again at Saturday's special term of the district court. After removing Mr. Collins was made, but by consent of both sides it was rescinded on condition that Mr. Collins withdraw by Monday. Up to this noon nothing had been done, then the order will be renewed. Mr. McIver is to succeed him as assignee. Mr. Collins is not in any way blameable in this matter, but he is put in a very awkward position by his double capacity. He is taking the position as assignee for Mark, Mr. Collins acted as attorney for Simon Cook, of Indiana, a creditor to the amount of $4000 and swore to the papers necessary to bring suit. This claim is disputed by the other creditors. Mr. Collins as assignee, can allow the claim and the other creditors have no redress, at the same time he cannot well deny it, having as attorney sworn to its being a true one. Mr. Collins' position was such that he could not well act without prejudice and for this reason Judge Ensign made the order for his removal.

PEOPLES PARTY WIN. But Only at the Drawing for Positions on the Ticket; Bresland Not in It. The political situation is practically unchanged but the campaign is now on in good earnest. A drawing was held in the office of the city clerk this morning for positions on the tickets. There is a separate ticket for each ward but the candidates will prevail for all. Heretofore it has been the custom for the person making up the tickets to suit himself. The name at the head of the ticket has a slight advantage and to equalize matters as much as possible this position was left to chance. As the result of the drawing was prepared, the candidates for mayor will appear in the following order: M. J. Davis, Chas. A. Bresland, C. A. Towne and Judge Morris will act as a bureau of "publicity and promotion." An executive committee of considerable strength has been named. The chairman is J. B. Stuppin and the other members are C. O. and E. C. Holloway.

The campaign from today will be hotly fought out. Two people's party meetings will be held this evening, one at Sves hall and one at the court house.

The Charleston Mine. The Charleston Mining company is to be organized today by A. F. Humphrey, Frank Woodman, John McKinley and William McKinley. The property controlled by the company will be the 1/4 of section 13, 15, 16, and lots 1 and 2, section 4, 18-19. The property is a strip three-fourths of mile long running north and south, and is next to that of the Mountain Iron company. The company will be capitalized at $1,250,000, of which $500,000 will be set aside as treasury stock for purposes of development. The companies success of last week which are to be under the control of the same men are not yet formally incorporated.

Henry Haskins Won't Speak Tonight. The people's party committee of the Fifth ward wish to state that Mr. Henry Haskins is not on the list of speakers at the meeting this evening at the Sves hall as stated in the Sunday morning papers of yesterday. The committee would kindly suggest to Mr. Haskins that he will be allowed to air his grievances in his own ward.

HURRAH FOR BEN

President Harrison's Message Received With Enthusiasm by Both Branches of Congress.

The Chilean Government Must Apologize and Offer Reparation for the Baltimore Massacre.

Egan has Conducted Himself With Dignity and Fairness and will not be Recalled.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Epitome of the President's message: President Harrison's message in the Chilean controversy was sent to congress today. The President reviews all of the evidence in the case and says he feels compelled to stand upon the demands of the note of the 21st to Minister Egan. These demands are that the Chilean government must apologize and make reparation for the assault upon the Baltimore's sailors Oct. 16; that the Matta circular note of Dec. 13 must be withdrawn and the language disavowed with as much publicity as it was circulated or diplomatic relations with Chile will cease; that Mr. Egan's recall will not be considered unless these matters are disposed of. After stating his reasons for making these demands, the President advises that they be confirmed and enforced by congress. Touching upon Minister Egan's recall President Harrison says: Whatever may have been said in this country or in Chile in criticism of Mr. Egan, our minister at Santiago, the true history of this exciting period in Chilean history is that Mr. Egan, in the face of the outbreak of the revolution until this time discloses no act on the part of Mr. Egan unworthy of his position, or that could justify the occasion of serious animadversion or criticism. He has, I think on the whole, borne himself in very trying circumstances, with dignity, discretion and courage, and has conducted the correspondence with ability, courtesy and fairness.

I am still of the opinion that our sailors were assaulted, beaten, stabbed and killed, and that for anything they or any of them had done, but for what the government of the United States had done, he was charged with having done by its civil officers and naval commanders. If that be the true aspect of the case the injury was to the government of the United States, not to those poor sailors who were assaulted in a manner so brutal and so cowardly. No amount of evasion or subterfuge is able to cloud over a clear vision of this brutal work.

SITUATION IN CHILE. Chile's Ultimatum Deferred by the Absence of President Montt.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Secretary Blaine received a cablegram today from Minister Egan at Santiago, in which he states that President Montt was not at this time in Santiago, having gone to a watering place in the mountains of Chile called "Los Baños."

In the absence of President Montt, Senator Pereira, minister of foreign affairs, requested Minister Egan to ask a delay of one or two days of his government until President Montt could be recalled to Santiago. On his return a reply could be sent to the demand of the United States for reparation.

It is understood that this delay will be granted and that Blaine so informed Minister Egan this morning.

In the Senate. The President's message on Chilean matters was read in the senate and at its conclusion referred to the committee on foreign affairs. The senate at 1:35 p.m. out of respect to the late Judge Bradley, adjourned until tomorrow.

In the House. Speaker Crisp presided in the house today and was the recipient of many congratulations. The President's message was read and at its conclusion was heartily applauded by both sides. It was appropriately referred to the committee on foreign affairs and that committee was called together and is now in session.

Register tomorrow. The Tribune on Long Last Year. [Duluth Tribune Feb. 3, 1891.]

Certain people of alleged republican antecedents are criticizing the Tribune because it is opposing Chas. A. Long's candidacy in the Second ward. The paper is attacked in such terms as the measure vocabulary of the alderman's friends can command for the inconsistency of its action. Mr. Long is posing as a republican whose glittering escutcheon is without spot. He would claim the support of this paper as his undoubted right because of his politics.

But history is hard to efface. There has been a time, when Long cared little for republicanism. Though a pretended stalwart member of the G. O. P. he now sits in the city council under far different auspices. Two years ago he entered a republican caucus and defied placed his black wreath upon his Napoleonic brow. Not in the least discouraged, he threw off the bonds of party and boldly declared himself an independent candidate and as such he was elected to the position he now holds. In those days Mr. Long cared little for party lines and chased the elusive democratic vote with all the agility he could muster.

Since that time the public knows little of the services that Long has done the Republican party. The record of his exploits in that direction is written in water. The files of the papers bear no evidence to his partisan activity in the campaign of 1890. For all that we know this stalwart, scrupulous republican sulked in his tent last fall and now he makes a loud imperious demand for the party support. Chas. A. Long states he has the worst "republican" from his campaign vocabulary and place some new war cry upon his banner.

CONVICTED OF CONTEMPT

The Street Railway Co. Fined $75 for Violating an Order of the District Court.

A New Point Ruled Upon by Judge Start and a Precedent Established.

Richardson, Day & Co. Win a Considerable Victory in Their Battle With the Street Railway Co.

The decision of Judge Start in the case of Richardson, Day & Co. vs. the Duluth Street Railway Company was filed in the office of the clerk of the district court this morning. The opinion was dated Jan. 23. On Dec. 21 two questions were submitted to Judge Start, one was as to whether the street railway company under its charter had a right to condemn for right of way. This he decided some time ago in the affirmative and issued an order appointing commissioners. The other question was as to whether an appeal from an order of injunction nullified its force. The decision in this case was in the negative and this time the opinion is in favor of Richardson, Day & Co. By it the street railway company which went upon the land in question after the appeal had been taken is adjudged guilty of contempt. The main question was whether or not it was a mere contempt, it says practically that after an injunction is issued it remains in force until it has been passed upon by a court of last appeal. The question was an entirely new one for this state and the decision is of great importance. In the case in question the decision has this effect: The street railway company relying upon their appeal have entered upon and are occupying the land in dispute. Now in so doing they are guilty of contempt until the question is settled by the supreme court. The text of the material portion of the decision, after reciting the facts regarding the motion, reads:

"That after said motion to dissolve said injunction and the making of the order of this court dissolving the same and the appeal by the plaintiff from said last named order, the said defendant appealed from the order allowing said injunction to the supreme court of this state and said appeal gave the usual supersedeas bond which was duly approved. That after said appeal by said defendant and the giving of said supersedeas bond, the said defendant acting upon the advice of its attorney entered upon the premises of the plaintiff as alleged in the said affidavit. That in giving said advice said attorney acted in good faith, believing it to be legally correct. Therefore, it is hereby considered, ordered and adjudged that the said defendant, the Duluth Street Railway Company, is guilty of a contempt of this court in having disobeyed said injunction and is hereby convicted of said offense, and as punishment therefor that it pay into this court for the use of the county of St. Louis a fine of $75, and if it neglects to pay said fine into court for 20 days next after notice to it of the filing of this order, that thereupon without further order of the court its answer herein be stricken out and thereafter it be not further heard in this case until it complies with this order.

The street railway company must now abandon the line over the property in question or be guilty of continued contempt. This victory from Richardson, Day & Co. is of much greater importance than the one gained by the street railway company in the order appointing commissioners in condemnation.

The commissioners held their first meeting this morning at the court house, where sworn in and are now ready for business.

Tomorrow is the last day for filing notes of issue from the February term as yet only twenty are filed. It is expected that the calendar will contain at least seventy-five new cases.

St. Jackson on a Surplus.

There is perhaps no one of the powers conferred on the federal government so liable to abuse as the taxing power. The most productive and convenient source of revenue were necessarily given to it, that it might be able to perform the important duties imposed upon it, and the taxes which it lays upon commerce being concealed from the real payer in the price of the article, they do not so readily attract the attention of the people as smaller sums demanded from them directly by the tax-gatherer. But the tax imposed on goods enhances by so much the price of the commodity to the consumer, and as many of these duties are imposed on articles of necessity which are daily used by the great body of the people, the money raised by these imposts is drawn from their pockets.

Do not allow yourselves, my fellow citizens, to be misled on this subject. The federal government cannot collect a surplus for such purposes without violating the principles of the constitution and assuming powers which have not been granted. It is, moreover, a system of injustice, and if persisted in will inevitably lead to corruption and must end in ruin. The surplus revenue will be drawn from the pockets of the people—from the farmer, the mechanic, and the laboring classes of society; but who will receive it when distributed among the states, where it is to be disposed of by leading politicians who have friends in favor and political partisans to gratify. It will certainly not be returned to those who paid it and who have most need of it and are honestly entitled to it. There is but one safe rule, and that is to confine the general government rigidly within the sphere of its appropriate duties. It has no power to raise a revenue or impose taxes except for the purposes enumerated in the constitution, and if its income is found to exceed these wants it should be forthwith reduced, and the burdens of the people so far lightened.

Col. Parker's lecture at the Temple on Saturday evening was one of the best yet delivered in the High school lecture course. It was an able address and at the same time was lightened by a vein of humor which particularly suited it to a popular audience. The lecture was a discussion of practical and theoretical methods of teaching.

Col. Francis Parker occupied the pulpit at the Pilgrim Congregational church yesterday morning and spoke upon "Christ As a Teacher." He illustrated his proposition that Christ's method was to lead men first to discover and then apply truth by an exposition of the beatitudes. His original and forcible address was enjoyed by a large audience.

Rev. George H. Kemp spoke last evening at Endion baptist church on the evils of the saloon and the necessity of citizens to see that the already too arrogant tone of the liquor traffic be opposed by the enlightened conscience of the people. He arraigned the saloon before the bar of public opinion and held the evidence of drunkards' wives, children, pastors, philanthropists, and judges. The cause of nine-tenths of our misery and crime may be traced directly to the saloon. It was not too much to ask any man who aspired to a position of trust to enforce the law. The mayor controlled the police and he had but to speak the word and the law could be enforced. The law was the sentiment of the people crystallized in form, and it was folly to speak about any inability to enforce it. No one could stand up to day before any body of the people and deny the saloon. Let not the present advanced position taken be set back.

Pedigree of a Paragraph. (Vermillion Iron Journal.)

The way of the news item, like that of the transgressor, is hard. In the Journal of the 7th there appeared an account of Hon. D. S. Hall's visit to this city on business relating to the Chippewa Indian commission. The following Saturday it was copied by the Duluth News, but not credited. Last week's Ely Times took it from the News, but did not give credit. Then to cap the climax, the Duluth Tribune of Monday contained the item credited to the Ely Times. It was original with the Journal, but required 10 days for the enterprising Tribune to reproduce. The moral is plain; if you want the news and want it when fresh and first published, read the Journal.

News of Small Exports and But a Light Decrease in Visible Supply Materially Aided the Decline.

The market opened considerably stronger this morning at an advance of from 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, but did not retain the strength of the opening during the forenoon session. Before noon May wheat had dropped to 1/4¢ below Saturday's close. The strength of the early opening was due to reports that the feeling over the Chilean matter was more warlike. Later news came over the wires that Chile would propose arbitration.

After the noon hour the market strengthened up slightly about 1/4¢ on May. The close was steady at prices unchanged from Saturday. The war news was unable to hold the market up against the quantities of wheat offered and other bearish outside news of small exports and small decrease in the visible supply. The session was not active and the principal trading was in May wheat.

Cash No. 1 hard closed at 80 1/4¢. On track 87¢. Cash No. 1 northern closed 85 1/4¢. On track, at 86¢. Cash No. 2 northern closed 80¢. No. 3 spring wheat closed at 72 1/2¢. WAITING ON CHILE.

Chile's Reply to President Harrison's Ultimatum Still Awaited With Impatient Anxiety.

Blaine Denies Having Received Any Response to the Demands Upon Chile.

Minister Montt Observes Strict Diplomatic Silence; How the Message was Received.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—As Secretary Blaine was entering the White House at noon to attend the cabinet meeting he was asked if any response had yet been made to the demands upon Chile. His answer was: "Not that I know of."

The telegram from Santiago printed this morning saying that Chile had decided to apologize and that a message to that effect would reach Washington today or tomorrow was read with much satisfaction by all classes of people in Washington, and everywhere the hope was expressed that the dispatch was true and that hostilities might be avoided. While everyone, or nearly everyone, favors a vigorous policy and sustains President Harrison in the position taken in his message, no one wants to punish Chile simply as a means of showing the power of the United States.

Representative Blount, chairman of the house committee on foreign affairs, speaking of the telegram said that if the country could stand anything it certainly could stand a reference of the case to the supreme court. If the report be true it is the second instance within a short time when a foreign country had put itself upon record as being willing to trust to the decision of questions affecting its interests to the supreme court.

In the sayward case recently it will be remembered that the English government instead of resorting to the usual channel of diplomacy brought the case into the supreme court.

However no authentic corroboration has yet been had from Santiago announcing that Chile had agreed to withdraw the offensive Matta note and was willing to submit the question of indemnity to the United States supreme court for decision.

A reporter of the United Press saw Minister Montt this morning, but that gentleman showed no disposition to discuss Chilean affairs and the subject was changed to the study of the matter which prevails in Washington this morning.

Latest from Chile.
Washington, 3:45 p. m.—A dispatch from Chile was received at the department of state this afternoon. It is not possible at this writing to give its contents. The state and navy departments are alive with rumors. One of these is to the effect that the dispatch states that Chile will withdraw the language in the now famous note as far as it applies to the United States. It is further rumored that the United States has sent a reply to Chile that her proposition is unsatisfactory. The president and members of cabinet decline to discuss the matter at this time.

HOW IT WAS RECEIVED.

Symposium of Press Comments on The President's Message.
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The world says: The country now knows where it is. To know respecting the Chilean situation. The duty just now is to go slow and keep calm. If war comes it will be forced upon us.

The Herald says: If we mistake not the popular verdict will be that Harrison has by his precipitate action and haste brought about a crisis unwarranted and unjust to a friendly sister republic, a crisis which easily have been averted by calm, patriotic and statesmanlike diplomacy.

The Times says: There is now no reasonable doubt that the assault upon the Baltimore's men was, as our government has claimed, "an attack upon the uniform of the United States navy." To allow such incident to pass without reparation would be tantamount to withdrawing the national pledge to support United States citizens sojourning on foreign soil.

The Tribune says: President Harrison's message is destined to rank with the declaration of the policy which made Monroe's name famous. Chile must accept responsibility for her own attack upon the Baltimore's sailors and make amends for it. Minister Matta's insulting note must be repudiated. There is nothing that can be submitted to arbitration except the amount of the indemnity.

Foreign Chile Sailed.
The London St. James Gazette says there is no creditable reason why the United States should have fixed the quarrel upon Chile. No just ground existed for sending the ultimatum to Chile. The London Globe says President Harrison's message is more humorous than tragic. It is marked by a noble stamp of spread-eagleism and makes the poorest case any nation ever put forward.

The Berlin newspapers do not comment upon the trouble between Chile and the United States and the matter does not attract much interest. The foreign editors of the Paris Journal Des Debats, Figaro, Republique, Siecle, Gaulois and Relais have assured a correspondent of the United Press that they believe there will be no war between the United States and Chile.

The newspapers of Rome have not published any comments today upon the trouble between the United States and Chile.

Swindler Musgrave on Trial.
TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 26.—B. R. Musgrave, the noted life insurance swindler, who burned the log cabin containing a skeleton on the banks of the Wabash river, with the intention of defrauding insurance companies out of about $200,000, was put on trial yesterday for conspiracy. Charles M. Trout, his confederate, is on trial jointly with Musgrave. The latter has been in jail here since he was caught at St. Paul.

All Want War.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26.—There is great excitement in the shipping and naval circles here over the Chilean situation. Naval officers and men all want war and the Baltimore's men are simply wild to get a chance to return to Valparaiso and secure revenge for the daily outrage on their comrades.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

Ordinary Routine Occupies The Attention of Both Houses.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—There were few people in the galleries and not over 150 members present when the house convened. The chaplain in his prayer gave thanks for the recovery of the speaker.

A bill was passed relieving the university of Missouri from responsibility for ordinance issued to it and destroyed by fire.

Mr. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, introduced a resolution requiring the president to inform the house whether any answer had been received from Minister Egan or the Chilean government to the dispatch of our government to Chile of Jan. 21, and if so from whom and when it was received and also to communicate to the house all correspondence of the Chilean trouble not already communicated. Referred to the committee on foreign affairs.

Proceedings of the Senate.
There were half-empty galleries in the senate chamber today. Just before the hour of meeting struck the sonorous voice of Senator George, of Mississippi, was heard remarking: "Well, there is no war cloud, after all." This feeling was a prompt echo for senators and was emphasized by the half-empty public galleries.

Mr. Hoar called attention to the duplicate printing of the President's message in both houses, and moved that in future whenever such a document was printed in the proceedings of the house it should not be repeated in the senate report. This was agreed to. The senate passed a message from the house of representatives, which was the public building at Leadville, Col. The La Abra case was taken up and at 3 p. m. was still under discussion.

Discussing the Message.
The senate committee on foreign affairs held a special meeting this morning and began the discussion of the Chilean situation as set forth in the president's message. The correspondence will be carefully gone over and considered by it before any definite action on the matter is taken.

Cleveland Not In It.

New York, Jan. 26.—The Herald says that Senator Hill will have a solid delegation to the Chicago convention from this state. Senator Hill was in conference at the Hoffman house with Messrs. McLaughlin, of Brooklyn, and it is said that all differences between these gentlemen have been adjusted. Among the many callers on the senator were Patrick Kelly, of St. Paul, who had the proxy of the national committee meeting of Charles Doran of Minnesota.

Refugees arrive at Callao.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Secretary Tracy last night received a dispatch from Commander Evans of the Yorktown announcing the arrival of that vessel at Callao, Peru. This is the port to which the Yorktown was ordered to convey the Balmaceda refugees taken aboard at Valparaiso.

SHE LIKES DULUTH.

So Says Pauline Hall to The Herald Man Who Asks Her Opinion.

Miss Pauline Hall is hardly less interesting in private life than before the footlights. The Herald man who knocked at her dressing room door last night was welcomed with the same charming manner which makes her a success on the stage. "I am not afraid of anything," she replied to the Herald man, "but I am interested in your city very much," she went on while the reporter gracefully opened the trunk and listened. "My trip to the West has been a great pleasure to me. I had no idea you had so much to say about Duluth. I do like it. It is nothing like it in New York, and I am really in earnest for it is the truth. I have been to Duluth often and I like it. I intend before I leave to go up to the very top. In regard to our opera house, I have been very much interested in it. I am from Cincinnati, and I am quite sure I shall like your city and I am quite sure I shall like your people. I am from Cincinnati, and I am quite sure I shall like your city and I am quite sure I shall like your people."

He leaves a wife and four children, Captain Roselle P. Percy, Fannie and Mrs. John Bertrand. He was a man of remarkable vitality and was universally esteemed for his many good traits of character. The funeral will take place tomorrow from the family residence in Central Park at 2 p. m.

A Pleasant Event.
A Washington dispatch of Jan. 13 to the Sioux City Journal has this to say of a former well-known Duluthian, A. E. Townsend, for some time editor of the Register.

Mr. A. E. Townsend, formerly of the Council Bluffs Nonpareil, who was connected with the Rescue Hose company of that town in such capacity that he took part in the running matches at Sioux City 12 years ago, has been employed in the government printing office for some time. Tomorrow evening Maj. and Mrs. Townsend will celebrate their 10th wedding anniversary and the occasion will be noted for the gathering of Iowa and Minnesota people.

CONSUMED BY FIRE.

Columbus, Ohio, is Visited by a Disastrous Fire at an Early Hour This Morning.

The Metropolitan Opera House, the Oldest and Finest in the City is Laid in Ashes.

Many Business Concerns Suffer Heavily, Entailing a Combined Loss of $500,000.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 26.—At 7:45 this morning fire started in the third story of J. N. Goodman's shoe factory in the Metropolitan Opera house block and because of delay in sending in an alarm the handsome and costly block was enveloped in flames quite beyond the power of the fire department to control. The whole block from Rich street to Walnut and from high to Pearl is a total loss.

Isaac Eberly owns the central third of the block, including the Metropolitan opera house. His loss is $75,000; insured for $50,000. George Foster owns the north third of the block. His loss is $40,000. The losses of the concerns occupying the block and their insurance are as follows:

A. Z. Werner, drug store, loss $6000; insurance $2000. Steinhauser, wholesale liquors, loss $10,000; insured for $6000. Goodman Shoe factory, loss $20,000; insurance $15,000. Dixon & Talbot, lessors of the opera house, loss $2000; no insurance. Daily Express, newspaper, loss $500; insurance $500. The forms of the Sunday World were also destroyed. Modjeska was to have appeared at the Metropolitan tonight and some of her stage property was in the opera house and is lost. There were a great many offices in upper stories. Absolutely nothing was saved there. The combined loss will probably reach $500,000.

THE REPORT UNFOUNDED.

Affairs of the Minneapolis Loan Association Will Not Be Wound Up.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 26.—The report that the American Building and Loan association has failed or has been wound up by order of the state bank examiner is without foundation. The examiner in his report, filed yesterday, found that the association was solvent and had a real surplus of about $164,000. He criticised the management of the association but made no recommendations to the governor whatever.

Corrupt City Government.
QUILLICOTTE, Mo., Jan. 26.—A sensation was sprung here yesterday by Circuit Judge Breckenridge instructing the grand jury to indict the mayor and city council for alleged irregularities in the sale of $30,000 worth of city bonds for street paving purposes.

Killed at the Crossing.
ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 26.—De Wolfe, a farmer, and a companion named Fisher, while driving in a sleigh last night on the crossing at Newark, Wayne county, on the New York Central road, were struck by a "wild cat" engine and killed. Both men lived in Fairville and have families.

Shoe Dealers Assign.
BOSTON, Jan. 26.—Francis Thompson & Co., boot and shoe dealers have assigned. Liabilities $75,000.

AN OLD SETTLER GONE.

R. G. Coburn Died at His Home in Superior Yesterday.

R. G. Coburn one of the oldest settlers in this region died at his home at Old Superior a 1 o'clock yesterday. Mr. Coburn was born at Seneca Falls, N. Y., in 1825, and in early years was a sailor, having sailed on different schooners on the lower lakes as far back as 1840. He arrived at Superior in October, 1859, being 31 years old, and was very prosperous as a merchant and contractor, for some, but met reverses. He owned considerable property in Superior, however, and disposed of some of it during the boom, and he died in good circumstances. He leaves a wife and four children, Captain Roselle P. Percy, Fannie and Mrs. John Bertrand.

He was a man of remarkable vitality and was universally esteemed for his many good traits of character. The funeral will take place tomorrow from the family residence in Central Park at 2 p. m.

The Great Northern Mining Company.

The officers and members of the Great Northern Mining company are hustlers who have believed for years that the Mesaba range would prove to be immensely rich in high grade iron ore. That recent developments have verified their most sanguine expectations goes without saying and today we hear a prediction that in the near future the Mesabians will be shipping more ore than the long celebrated Vermilion. After a careful study of the mineral resources of the Mesaba and wishing to secure some of the benefits of this vast wealth for themselves and those associated with them they have carefully selected and acquired the fee to a large amount of land located in the most promising sections of this great mineral belt. Knowing that the best results are only attained by organized effort, and persistent effort, these men have organized the Great Northern Mining company, capitalized on the basis of 500,000 shares, free from royalties. A very limited number of full paid and non-assessable shares of the capital stock of the company have been placed on the market, the proceeds to be used in exploring and test-pitting the holdings of the company. The officers of the company will consider it a pleasure to furnish any information in their power to those wishing to "put their money where it will do the most good," and whether you make an investment or not a call from you will be welcome.

THE FATAL TREE.

Joe Stone Killed Yesterday at the Ford Camp by a Falling Pine.

Fred W. Ford arrived in the city this morning about 2 o'clock bringing with him the body of Joe Stone, of this city, who was killed at the Ford camp on the Cloquet river yesterday. Mr. Ford is the foreman of the camp and was working on the tree by the fall of which Stone was killed. He was not struck by the falling tree but by a small maple which tumbled down in its fall. Stone was picked up and taken to the camp and it was found that his head was injured, but only a small cut could be found and after an examination of his head he was able to sit and stand up and talked some. In the evening he began to grow worse and it was decided to bring him to Duluth. He was put in a sleigh, but died before more than five miles of the journey had been made.

The body was taken to Durkan's morgue and is there today. Dr. Ecklund has decided that no inquest is necessary. Stone has a father and mother living in this city.

Violated the Law.

Duluth is not a "wide-open" town, at least not when anyone knows anything about its "openness." Just to show that the law is enforced a warrant was issued this morning for the bartender at the Brighton on a charge of selling liquor without a license. He will be before Judge Morris this afternoon.

A Rash Wager.

N. F. Hugo and J. H. Logie are both proudly exhibiting some "wind siffers" which are still new and concerning the unusual ornaments there is a story. Both it is said have agreed not to shake until Long is elected mayor. The chances are that some distant day in the future both will be in the front row of a museum with beards that will trail along the ground.

Thinks That Way, Too.

To the Editor of The Herald:
A communication in your yesterday's edition, signed A Union Man, struck me as being the right word in the right place. Not only has the Typographical union suffered at the hands of the Tribune and News, but all other organized crafts of the city have come in for a good share of their spleen. I remember a communication from the Bricklayers' union to the city council (which, by the way, was laid on the table) relating to the manner in which the city's brickwork was being constructed. All union bricklayers remember the manner in which it was written up by the First street rodents. I believe the time has come for all union men of Duluth to strike a blow that will redound to their everlasting credit by refusing to support with their votes any candidate countenanced by either of the sinister morning papers.

ests of Duluth are too great to be jeopardized by supporting such a man.

Citizen—That is true, and I for one won't vote for him, that's all there is about it.

Stranger—What sort of men are the other candidates?

Citizen—The alliance has nominated the present mayor, who is a very good man, but their platform requires all public improvements to be done on the day labor plan, which is utterly impractical in a business sense. Then, too, the several departments have been very expensive under his administration, and impractical reforms have been attempted, which, in some respects, have only made things worse. There is not one man in a thousand fitted for the place, as no many very good men seem to have no knowledge of what is going on right around them. Of course, I'm not out around much myself, but those who are tell me they have been pretty slack the last year. The police power—and that is the chief power of a city government—has not been vigorously handled, and the men seem to feel little responsibility for a faithful performance of duty.
As a result there are now, it is said, assignment houses in the business part of the town, and some officers, they tell me, stand in with the lawbreakers. Only two or three weeks ago I saw a policeman drunk with his hand firm on. It seems to me all this could easily be stopped with the right man for mayor.

Stranger—What sort of a man is the democratic nominee?

Citizen—He is a lawyer by profession, and a shrewd, careful man, with a good deal of nerve, who made quite a record a few years ago as county attorney. He also made a good campaign in '89 for attorney general of the state, but of course you know Minnesota is a republican. He is pretty well off, too, I understand, as he has made a good deal in iron lands and other property, and I am told he recently inherited a considerable estate.

Stranger—There would be no temptation for him to wrong the city in any way, then?

Citizen—Oh, no, he's a straight, honest fellow every way, who would give us a strong and conservative government, regardless of the business interests, and certainly more vigorous than we have now. I believe he would infuse some sort of responsibility into the police force.

Stranger—From what you say it seems to me you ought to vote for him.

Citizen—I feel that way myself now, and unless something turns up between this and election day, I'll just go down and put my little ballot in for d'Aumont. But you know under the circumstances, as I have held office myself under the republican party, I can't get out and do any work openly for him.

Stranger—No, I see.

The Tribune claims Mayor Davis has brought stringency upon our city. The Tribune has to blame somebody for its business failure, but such a charge is a little bit cowardly. If the kindergarten journalists of the rat trap could run a paper half as well as Mayor Davis has run the city it wouldn't be edited by the sheriff's son-in-law. What we want is a local government run about as well as the Herald, which even in these stringent and troublous times has built up a nice business and has no sheriff's posse connected with its reportorial force—an innovation introduced by our complaining contemporaries.

It is little use to close the saloons at 11 o'clock when liquor can be purchased all night on the Point. And thus it is that many a wayward youth expedites his downward career. The Herald wants a city government that will shut off this unlicensed business.

The Herald is patiently waiting to hear that C. Augustus Long has resigned his seat in the city council. Such a move would make him popular. If he doesn't pull out no one will believe he has any hope of election and the votes will be thrown for the other fellows.

"Put up or shut up," is the effective motto of our first street contemporary of the candidates of its party. With its usual consistency it now supposes a man who a year ago was the object of its bitter denunciation.

Let the political renaissance move along. The Herald is after a clean and able government, and progressive. There will be no backward step.
We shall not be even backward in stepping forward.

The poor old Tribune has so far disgusted that even our esteemed and genial erstwhile collaborator, R. C. Mitchell, cannot digest its erratic doctrines. d'Aumont is catching the crowd.

The evening paper is the paper for Duluth. It reaches everybody and speaks kindly, even lovingly of all.

A politician can lose more with his mouth in a minute than he can get back in a year with both hands.

Politics is looking up and the candidates are also looking up their friends.
Things are taking on a rosy hue.

Let the campaign go on; let joy be unconfined. The Herald is looking for better government.

What The Herald wants is an able and vigorous government from the word get, go, come.

SPEEN AND FAIRBANKS.

'Several articles have recently appeared in the News reflecting on the conduct of The Herald in this campaign and maliciously charging its course to D. G.
Cash. This morning the nemesis repeats the falsehood and elaborates it with a fictitious story in part as follows:

It will be remembered that it was on Saturday afternoon that The Herald made its appearance at the d'Aumont camp, after passing Mayor Davis' administration but a few days before.

On the same Saturday, about noon, there was a little gathering in one of the private rooms at Boyle's restaurant. Those present were director Sperry and Manager Wain of the Herald company, and Manager William Cole, of the Duluth Gas and Water company, and they were discussing what The Herald article that appeared in The Herald that evening, declaring in favor of d'Aumont for mayor. The first slice of the editorial was before them, and the article was being submitted to Manager Craig for approval. These facts are related for by a well known citizen who accidentally opened the door of this private room, and thus came face to face with them.

The gentlemen referred to were seen by a Herald representative this morning.
S. F. Snively said he took his luncheon in the public dining hall at Boyle's on that day, but that he hadn't been in a private room in that building since December, 1891. A. C. Weiss, in charge of The Herald, said he hadn't been inside of Boyle's restaurant for a month. William Craig, manager of the Duluth Gas and Water company, said he hadn't taken a meal at Boyle's for a month and hadn't been in a private room there for three months.

Mr. Craig further asserted that he had never talked to anyone connected with The Herald either as a stockholder or employee, as to its conduct in this campaign, nor had he any conversation with Mr. d'Aumont or the managers of his cavass in the matter. On the other hand all overtures for his support had come from another source in the interest of another candidate. Thus do the barefaced falsehoods of the morning nemeses, which are as reliable as anything else it has said, fall to the ground.
No one opened the door of a private room and saw these gentlemen, for they were not there, nor did any one see them in any other room, for they were not there to be seen, and the only thing the "well known citizen" and the nemeses came face to face with was their own well varnished lies.

The animus of all this is back a little.
The present manager and editorial director of the News was recently business manager of The Herald. When the gas and water campaign came on, the editor of The Herald was confined to his home with illness and the business manager, now with The News, dictated the policy of the paper and came out in favor of the purchase of the water plant. Before returning to his duties the editor studied the situation carefully and thoroughly, being fully convinced that the purchase was the right thing. The business manager also urged him to pursue that course, already begun, as the right one for Duluth. The expert's figures had been given to the public and the price was already known. The financial condition of the country was well understood and every factor in the problem had been duly considered.

The election was on Thursday and the substance of Engineer Keating's adverse report was given in the News of the Sunday before. This caused many people to change their views, but no suggestion was made to the editor of The Herald at that time that the paper's course should be changed.

Tuesday noon when the editorial pages were ready for the press, the business manager suggested that The Herald was on the wrong side, the only argument being that the proposition would be defeated. When it was pointed out that from the position of The Herald, which he had approved, that even if the plant could be duplicated for a million, the purchase was still the best thing for the city, there was no ground for a dop, he said all right, let her go. The next day, Wednesday, the last on which The Herald would appear before the election, the editor turned in enough copy for the editorial columns at 8:30, the business manager having not yet arrived, and went to the public meetings in the city hall and chamber of commerce which occupied all the forenoon.

On returning to the office at 12:30, see the proofs of the matter, the editor found his articles had been withheld by the order of the business manager, a very little of the early copy having been set. Other stuff, alleged editorial matter, had been chopped out of the exchanges with an ax, all up, and the business manager was busy writing a dop editorial with Charles Alexander Lind dictating it over his shoulder. He declared he was running The Herald, although he was never so much as a reporter, and a clash of authority ensued.
The editorial pages would go to press at 1 o'clock, and to head off the dop without physical force the editor quickly called in several directors and stockholders, with whom the policy of the paper ultimately rests, to act as they saw fit. Although considerably disfigured the paper didn't flop, but the manager soon flopped over onto the News where he now speaks his venom on those who chanced to balk him in his puerile career. D. G.
Cash was one of these men who as a member of a firm that owns a small amount of Herald stock. There is no other ground whatever for the attacks of the News upon him. Although the now business manager of the News published the editorial of The Herald in an interview, no notice whatever was made of it, and in spite of his folly he has been treated by this paper in an honorable, manly way. But his soul thirsts for revenge, and to gratify his spleen he pursues this unworthy course.
We think he could be bought.

The hair-lifting scene is now in progress. The ganglia are busy as beehives.

Charley Long put a little cheese on a rat trap and caught a Chipman with it.

THE HERALD A YEAR AGO.

The Herald having in playful mood taken the poor old Tribune by the nose of the neck and shaken it like the rat that it is, till it couldn't squeal, that advocate, for revenue only, of the equally just claims of Frederick Prentice and Charley Long, quotes from The Herald of a year ago to convey an impression of inconsistency. We hardly need enter a denial as the public well knows The Herald a year ago was in other hands and was edited by a gentleman, highly qualified for Charley Long's purposes, who walked in his sleep or slept in his walk. In fact the last year's editor of The Herald didn't know very much more than this year's editor of the Tribune, and, it is said, was quite susceptible to that form of logic, now used to convince the Tribune, whose syllogism is composed of dollars, dimes and cents.

The last year's editor of The Herald was also a republican, and like many foolish people of his party now, stood by the regular ticket to which Long was blighly attached. The Herald of this year is quite another journal. It doesn't do its thinking with a time lock, and moreover it is independent, seeking only the interests of Duluth. So the dear old first street defender of Long and Prentice, of time sharks and political charlatans, will have to look for some other point of attack. The Herald is in-vulnerable on that line.

FOR THE COMING COURT

A list of the Grand and Petit Jurors Who Will Serve at the February Term.

A Large Calendar Framed; Some of the New Actions Which Have Been Begun Today.

The Battle Between Richardson, Day & Co. and the Street Railway Company is at Last Settled.

The jury list for the coming term of court, which was drawn some days ago, contains the names of 33 grand and 40 petit jurors summoned from all parts of the county. The list of grand jurors is as follows: Daniel Cox, Phineas Brownell, I. Freimuth, J. C. Helt, James Sullivan, Oscar E. Jones, Nathan Youngblood, F. W. Partridge, S. D. Hill, W. S. Woodbridge, C. P. McGinnis, Geo. N. Messick, W. J. Sufell, H. W. Birch, C. L. Rakowski, Chas. Schiller, P. Cook, A. Macfarlane, E. G. Chapman, O. E. Bertram, Oliver G. Traphagen, E. L. Bradley, David Muir.

The petit jurors are: P. G. Kramer, W. A. Pryor, S. W. Clark, J. H. Crowley, Geo. E. Long, Colby Smith, J. G. Brown, T. W. Atwood, J. C. Schaefer, Geo. W. Buck, Frank I. Breese, John A. McKenzie, John Helmer, Frank M. Bacon, Adam T. Scarlett, D. Marble, Chas. Krause, J. M. Smith, E. C. Jones, Lawrence Hendrick, James T. Elliot, Edward Hone, Jacob H. Winterfield, Asa Danley, R. H. Harris, A. L. Kingman, Alex. S. Porter, R. C. Ray, J. L. Pember, Wm. Alford, W. T. Bailey, C. H. King, H. M. Backus, Thomas Halford, P. O. Hobe, C. W. Higgins, S. Gilhaar, M. A. Hayes, Jas. S. Dacey.

The calendar for the February term promises to be an unusually long one. It will contain 60 continued cases and probably at least 75 notes of issue will be filed. A great number of cases have come in today. The most important were as follows:

McMannus & Sons vs. Robert Louden, a suit to recover $182 for labor in getting out cedar posts; P. J. Mularky vs. J. S. Shaw, et al. to recover $300 on a note; W. H. Crocker vs. Henry Gill, et al. to recover $300 for merchandise delivered; A. Culver vs. D. Duggan to recover $300 for personal injuries received in January, 1892, by the alleged neglect of the defendant; E. P. Follet vs. Geo. R. Stuntz et al. for the sum of $1,300, $500 of which is alleged to have been paid to Duggan for the use of property to which he had no title; W. G. LaRue vs. J. T. Hale, asking that a partnership be declared existing between them and that a receiver be appointed to take charge of certain lands in 58-11, alleged to be partnership property; W. A. Sutton vs. D. Duggan to recover $300 on a note given as purchase price for certain real estate; Maryland Investment company et al. vs. Duluth and Winnebago, asking for recovery of a strip of land 14 feet wide in 40-15.

Robert Tullock vs. John H. Mendenhall, O. P. Stearns and W. K. Rogers, to recover $1607, claimed due for excavation done on the Hardy school building. Straus Bros. vs. Lot 12 m. 32, 3 p. m. 20, 6 m. 23; 9 p. m. 15; 7 a. m. 4; 9 a. m. 5; 12 m. 10. Maximum, 30; minimum, 15; daily range, 25.

The Herald is asked to correct the item in today's News which says the Merchants' Union will give a banquet to the wholesalers at the Brighton, Feb. 16. The item as it appeared in yesterday's Herald was correct and the News should caution its readers to copy it with more accuracy. The banquet is not given to the wholesalers. Members of the local union and representatives of the jobbing houses will be present.

The difficulty between Richardson, Day & Co. and the Street Railway company has been amicably adjusted. Yesterday as soon as Judge Strat's decision had been received, copies of it were served on the officers of the street car company and for some time no more cars were allowed to cross the tract in question and passengers were compelled to walk this distance. Later on an agreement was reached and today the cars are running.

Mr. Richardson had the company in a "hole" to use a common phrase and had he been so disposed might have made it interesting for them. The damage however, would have made it more severe on the children attending the Hardy school and those living at West Superior Park, and so though he felt he had been hardly treated and was entitled to a little revenge, he decided to forego it. A proposition which he made some time ago for the sale of his interest in the land in dispute was accepted and now the company have the necessary right-of-way without proceedings in condemnation being necessary. The sale was no back-down by Mr. Richardson from the stand which he has taken. He has made a square legal fight and won. The result, however, would press most heavily upon those whom he did not care to injure and since the securing of the right of way was only a question of time he did not press his advantage. His action has been an interesting one and has decided some important legal questions.

The New York Stock Market Showed Great Activity Today Owing to the Peaceful Aspect of Chilean Affairs.

The Shorts Made a Rush to Cover and Prices Bubbed up Slightly, in Some Cases Two Per Cent.

The Local Grain Market Opened Weak Also Affected by Chilean War News, But Firm up Later.

Prices were a great deal weaker this morning at the opening, owing to rumors that Chili had offered apology. The probability of war had been largely discounted and the reaction at the opening in all American markets seemed to be marked.

The demand here today was principally in May and cash wheat on track. Considerable track wheat changed hands early and there was a fair demand for No. 1 northern May in large lots. After the noon hour prices strengthened considerably, owing to unreliability of early war news and the steady stand taken by the shorts on different markets.

New York—Money 1/2 @ 2 per cent. There was great activity in the stock market this morning. The shorts rushed to cover in view of the more peaceful aspect of the Chilean affair and the buying caused prices to advance 1/4 @ 1 1/2 per cent in the opening dealings. At 11 o'clock the best figures were current, the advance ranged from 1/4 to 2 per cent. At noon the market is dull and easier. Sales, 239,000 shares.

SOME "SNAPS."

Is There Any Money in Duluth For Investment in Genuine "Snaps" in Real Estate?

Most real estate agents say that it is utterly useless and a waste of money to advertise real estate for sale in such dull times as these. They say that when it is well understood that almost everything "in sight" is for sale, it is hardly worth while to call attention to the fact that particular lots or tracts of land are for sale.

Perhaps they are correct, in the main but as there is just as much money in the country now as during the flush times of two years ago, and as there is some little trading going on all the time, and as my impression is that purchasers like the very best bargains that are attainable in the very best of times, as well as during more lively periods, I am strongly inclined to believe that even during the present stagnant times, it will pay an agent to advertise—provided, that there are any buyers at all, in the field—whenever he has anything for sale that is really below the market. At any rate, I have concluded to try what the effect would be of my advertising for a short time, some of the numerous extraordinary bargains that I have to offer; and in this connection, I would just call the attention to the fact that these dull times cannot last always and they eventually will, not last much longer, and it is certain that property can be bought in Duluth cheaper now than it can ever be bought again, as long as the world shall stand. Now, just look over this list, please, and see what it contains which strikes your fancy:

SNAP No. 1. The east half of block 96, Endion.

SNAP No. 2. 100 feet on southwest corner of block 96, Endion. If there is any handsome residence property than this in Duluth, I would like to know where it is.

SNAP No. 3. 40 acres near Woodland Park in section 22-51-14.

SNAP No. 4. 40 acres what will be the line of the Seventh avenue electric line in section 7-50-14. (This is nearer to the heart of the city than is Woodland Park and it will soon be quite as valuable for platting and for residence purposes, but an acre of this property will not cost as much now as a single lot in Woodland.)

SNAP No. 5. 180 acres of superb land in section 9-50-15.

SNAP No. 6. 50 acres of choice land on Pike Lake.

SNAP No. 7. 30 acres of land on the same beautiful lake.

SNAP No. 8. Several lots in Bay View Addition.

SNAP No. 9. 10 acres in the city limits of Superior in section 6-48-13.

SNAP No. 10. 40 acres in section 6-48-12, just east of Allouez Bay.

SNAP No. 11. Land in sections 10 and 14 in 49-18, Carlton county.

SNAP No. 12. Any number of choice business and residence lots in Grand Rapids.

The price and terms upon which any of these pieces of property can be sold will be given on application.

Suffice it to say that prices will be put on any of this property, which I am willing should be compared with the prices of any other similarly situated property on the market—prices at which it certainly ought to sell, provided, that there are any buyers at all, in this community.

PEACE ON EARTH.

The War Cloud Dissipated by Chile's Unconditional and Unequivocal Apology.

Secretary Blaine Says Chile's Reply Puts an End to the Whole Difficulty.

Minister Montt Receives an Apology Which Will Prove Satisfactory to All Concerned.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—A Washington special to the Post-Intelligencer says: Mr. Blaine stated this afternoon that Chile's reply to the President's ultimatum is acceptable and that all danger of war is passed. He made this statement in positive terms to Chairman Blount of the foreign affairs committee. Mr. Blount called on the secretary this morning. Upon his return to the capital and for the first time since the war cloud became dark, Mr. Blaine consented to express an opinion.

He had a long talk with Secretary Blaine. Mr. Blaine said: "The secretary told me, as nearly as I can recall his words: 'The reply which we have received from Chile is satisfactory and puts an end to the whole difficulty.'"

Continuing, Mr. Blaine said: "The reply is more extensive than the cable reports state. It shows that Chile's apology is much more satisfactory than we thought it would be."

A visit to the Chilean legation was rewarded by the news that Minister Montt this morning received a cable from the government containing an apology of the most unequivocal nature. The minister would not give it out for publication, but a gentleman who saw it, states that it cannot but prove satisfactory to the American people in every respect. It is thought to be a duplicate of the reply received by the government.

Confirmed in New York.

New York, Jan. 27.—The evening Sun's Washington special says it is learned that Chile has made an unconditional apology.

THE CHILEAN CORRESPONDENCE.
The Committee on Foreign Relations Consider It Today.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Chilean correspondence and the accompanying message of the President was again discussed by the senate committee on foreign relations at a meeting today, but no definite action was taken. The committee has not received from the President a copy of the dispatch sent by Minister Egan concerning Chile's agreement to acknowledge the Matto case as an error of judgment and to submit the Valparaiso tragedy to arbitration, but it is probable that it will be sent to congress within a few days. The committee decided to await the receipt of more definite information concerning the controversy.

Minister Montt was shown the dispatch from Santiago, published in the morning papers to the effect that several members of the Chilean cabinet had said in interviews that Senor Montt had misled his government as to the state of affairs between the two countries, and that he had been unable to prevent the Valparaiso tragedy. The committee decided to await the receipt of more definite information concerning the controversy.

Minister Montt said he was unable to prevent the Valparaiso tragedy, but he had been unable to prevent the Valparaiso tragedy. The committee decided to await the receipt of more definite information concerning the controversy.

So far as can be learned at this time no instructions have yet gone to Minister Egan respecting the reply of Chile to the note of the United States of the 21st inst. The reply of Chile is said to be a lengthy document, 3000 words or more, covering the whole trend of the controversy in a general way.

The reply as stated in these dispatches yesterday, is most satisfactory for the reason that it contains nothing definite on the subject of an apology for the assault upon the Chilean sailors, although Senor Peralta, minister of foreign affairs, says the government of Chile deposes its occurrence as it has in the past. The offer to refer the case to the United States supreme court for arbitration is said to relate only to the amount of indemnity to be paid.

As to the withdrawal of the Matto circular the reply makes no mention of acceding to the demand that the disavowal of the offensive terms contained in that note be made as public and general as was the circulation of the note originally.

The recall of Minister Egan, as required by Minister Montt, will not be insisted on by the Chilean government. The above, it is believed, covers the principal points of the document. It will probably not be sent to congress until Minister Egan has been instructed with the answer and his report thereon has been received.

Divorce in High Life.
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Jan. 27.—Baron De Steurs, minister of the Netherlands, whose wife is in this city applying for a divorce, yesterday charged the baroness with infidelity. The charge came up on a motion to amend the baron's answer to the wife's complaint. The arguments on the motion will be made today. The baroness behaved improperly with one Elliot Zborzski, alias William Elliot.

Anarchy in Spain.
MADRID, Jan. 27.—Dispatches from Bilbao say that there has been much rioting there between the strikers and the authorities. The soldiers were stoned and in self defense fired upon the mob, killing several of them. Large reinforcements of troops are being sent to Bilbao.

Montt Seriously Compromised.
LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Times correspondent at Santiago cables that the position of Senor Pedro Montt at Washington is seriously compromised, he having advised his government all along that Mr. Blaine consistently gave him pacific assurances.

Quay in Good Health.
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 27.—The report that Senator Quay was threatened with pneumonia is incorrect. Senator Quay left for Washington this evening. Senator Quay has a bad cold, but otherwise is in good health.

The Will of the Late Jerome I. Case Admitted to Probate.

RACINE, Wis., Jan. 27.—In the county court here yesterday the last will of the late Jerome I. Case was admitted to probate. According to the will Mr. Case left an estate valued at $1,100,000. Of this amount $100,000 was in personal property and $1,000,000 in real estate. After provisions are made for the funeral expenses the will bequeaths to the widow the homestead on Main street, also $100,000 and also bank stock in several banks. To Charles H. Lee he bequeaths in trust $80,000 for his children. To his sister, Mrs. Jane Wright, of Denver, he left $5,000 in trust and to Florence Hollbrook, of Chicago, $200. All the rest of the property goes to the children and he expresses a desire that his son, Jackson I. Case manage the interests in the J. I. Case threshing machine works. Lydia Case, Jackson I. Case and H. M. Wallis are named as the executors.

WILL RESUME JOURNALISM.

Whitelaw Reid Will Resign His Ministerial Office and Return Home.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The report which has been circulated with more or less regularity for some time past, that Whitelaw Reid, minister to France, would resign that position and return to the United States to enter the field of journalism, has been confirmed at the state department. Mr. Reid is expected to leave for his home in February.

The cause for his resignation is a desire to resume his labors in the newspaper press, and is in accordance with the understanding reported at the time that he probably would not remain in Paris for the full term of this administration. He has successfully conducted the negotiations for the removal of the restrictions upon the admission of American pork into France, and he can now return, knowing that he has been instrumental in accomplishing one of the beneficial acts of the administration.

Catholic Church Destroyed.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 27.—The French church of the ascension on Hamilton street, was destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The priest in charge, Father Lavigne, rushed in to save the sacrament but he had to turn and flee for his life. The flames spread to the parsonage and the house on the west, and to a story brick and two-story frame houses on the east. WORK OF CONGRESS.

The Senate Asks for Information Relating to the Proposed Pacific Submarine Cable.

China's Rejection of Senator Blair Eloquently and Indignantly Denounced by Senator Morgan.

Hatch Introduces a Bill Making Oleomargarine Subject to the Laws of the Several States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—In the senate today Mr. Gibson, from the committee on naval affairs, reported a bill for a dry dock at Algiers, La., at a cost of $350,000.

Mr. Hale, from the same committee, reported favorably a resolution asking the President for information as to steps taken for soundings between San Francisco and Honolulu and other points in the Pacific for a submarine cable, according to the provisions of the last naval bill adopted.

Mr. Morgan asked immediate consideration of a resolution calling for the state department correspondence with China regarding Mr. Blair. It was important to learn what the United States intended to do when notified that a general of high reputation had been rejected by the government to which he was accredited. This became additionally important from his bearing on another case where the United States and another government had become much embroiled.

Mr. Hale thought the resolution should be addressed to the President who should be left to judge whether the correspondence should be properly sent in. The resolution should go to the foreign committee.

Mr. Sherman, of the foreign committee, deprecated immediate adoption of the resolution and suggested that instead of directing the secretary of state to furnish the correspondence it should be left to the discretion of the president. At the same time he strongly insisted that no foreign government should be allowed to violate the rights and privileges of representation and debate in the senate by declining to receive a minister because of his utterances in the senate. He thought the resolution was a matter under consideration.

Mr. Morgan's resolution as modified was adopted.

Mr. Hoar, from the committee on elections, called up a resolution clarifying Horace Chilton entitled to the seat in the senate made vacant by the resignation of James Kegan. He explained that the committee had concluded that the governor's appointment of Mr. Chilton was legal. After some debate the resolution was adopted and Mr. Chilton was confirmed in his seat.

Proceedings of the House.
There was a small attendance of members when the house met this morning. A bill providing for a railroad and wagon bridge across the Mississippi at South St. Paul was passed.

Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, introduced a bill providing that oleomargarine transported into any state or territory shall be subject to the laws of such state or territory the same as if manufactured therein.

He moved its reference to the committee on agriculture. The speaker ruled that it should go to the judiciary committee. By a vote of 128 to 108 it was referred to the committee on agriculture.

Reporters Will Be There.
ALBANY, Jan. 27.—The assembly has passed a bill allowing newspaper reporters to witness elections.

Holliday to recover on two notes given the Duluth Tribune, aggregating $208, and the North Side Roller Mill vs. Peterson and Tuft to recover $674 for merchandise delivered. The calendar for the February term of court is nearly ready for the printer. It will contain about 165 cases. This is the largest number of cases which has been set for hearing at any one term of the court since the holding of five terms of court yearly has been established. The calendar has for some time had an average of about 145 cases.

Governor Merriam was in town for a short time last evening, but was in and away before even the reporters could find him. He had been to Superior on private business and his visit here was unofficial unless it had some bearing on the political situation.

THE NEW DIRECTORATE.

The New Board of Trade Directors Hold Their First Meeting Yesterday.

The first meeting of the newly elected directors of the board of trade was held yesterday afternoon. Col. Wells was re-elected secretary and F. W. Payne treasurer. The other employees were retained for another year. A committee was appointed to draft a strong protest against the proposed Washburn option bill. Col. Graves, who had been elected to represent the board before the congressional committee and protest against the bill, was also appointed to represent the board at the hearing before the joint committees of the senate and house on the waterways convention. This hearing will be Jan. 30. There was considerable other routine business, but nothing of great importance. President Daggett announced the following standing committees: Finance, John McLeod, M. King; treasurer, Mrs. Z. D. Scott. Among the vice presidents from different churches are Mrs. C. H. Clague, Mrs. B. F. Smith, and Miss Barker. A committee was appointed to act in conjunction with a committee from the W. C. T. U. to prepare a series of three entertainments which will be given in the new building. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy about Feb. 10. It will be opened by a formal reception to be given by the ladies and the association acting together. There will be refreshments and music as features of the evening.

Duluth and Superior Land and Tile Co.
Articles of incorporation of the Duluth and Superior Land and Tile company of West Superior have been filed. The capital is $25,000 and the incorporators are J. F. Ware, A. Genard and H. J. Adams. The purpose of the company is to furnish sand from the bottom of the bay, using a new device invented by Capt. Osborne, which it is claimed will handle 600 yards a day with three men employed. It is a pump which sucks the sand from the baybottom and dumps it on scoops, thence transferring it in like manner from scoops to dock. Scoops and appliances are now being constructed and operations will begin upon the opening of spring.

Civil Service Examination.
United States civil service examinations will be held in Duluth, Minn., on May 4th, 1892, for all branches of the department service, and for the railway mail service. No person can be examined who has not previously filed an application on a blank which may be obtained by writing to the United States civil service commission, Washington, D. C. A delay in filing the application may result in a failure to obtain an admission card in time to be examined. A pamphlet of instructions will accompany every application blank. In the southern states and in the remote western states the supply of applicants for the railway mail service is not equal to the demand.

Paid His Fine.
Chas. Fenton, the bartender at the Brighton, arrested for selling liquor on Sunday in violation of the city ordinance, pleaded guilty when arraigned before the police court and paid a fine of $12.50. Jas. De Witt, Lieutenant Colonel Ter and several prominent members of Company "K" held a conference last evening at the Spalding with Brigadier General Bend in relation to the affairs of the company. Another meeting will be held this evening as no decision was reached.

THE NEWS BACKS DOWN.
The Herald last night called the nemesis down, and, as all who have seen it this morning are aware, it stays down.
It knows its position is utterly false, but having taken it deliberately and maliciously it has not the manhood to retract.
From day to day it fakes up stories without foundation, and when they are refuted it merely moves on to another falseness. Such journalism is unworthy of Duluth and is of the sort that can be secured for a consideration.

As to the alleged jump of The Herald, we need only say that midnight of Saturday was the last hour at which new candidates could be brought into the field, and as there was no further move of that kind on foot The Herald, as an independent paper, took its stand Saturday evening for d'Auremont. It could not intelligently have done so sooner, as new and possibly preferable candidates and new issues might have come up. A paper like the News that does not thinking but goes to it blind, could take its stand at any time or not take it at all, and the result would be the same. Its course of persistent falseness, so clearly shown, has destroyed what little influence it had,
and it now ranks with junk shop journals like the Tribune in its mendacity and worthlessness. It is utterly unreliable as to facts, and equally contemptible in its purposes. Posing as the champion of virtue, it wilfully misrepresents and knowing the rotten condition of affairs under the present administration it strives to conceal the same. As a representative of hypocrisy and falsehood it stands peerless and alone, while licentiousness needs no blinder tool nor more willing advocate.

The Herald took no hasty leap in the dark, but bided its time till the candidates were all in and the issues made up, when it took a firm and manly position, giving reasons for the faith that was in it. Moreover, we are confident of the result.

LOOK OUT FOR FLOPPERS.
The morning rodenia and nemesis are both likely to flop before the campaign closes. The rodenia is already convicted it is in the wrong, and one day when its boiler plate conscience smote it and its exchequer was depleted, it ceased to warble its Augustan lay while its financial agents betook themselves to the wigwam of the so-called wicked and unwashed and tendered their services at so much a tender to fight the uncrowned and two faced king.
But the opposition of the rodenia was discreetly declined, and the next day whether aided or abetted by the alliance folks we know not, it came out again for the oriental alderman as a pretender to the throne.

The nemesis is more likely to flop on the last day of the campaign if its own wishes in the matter are to be considered. That is its regular date for flopping and such course will be looked forward to with a degree of certainty. The Herald, for the sake of its own candidate, wishes to keep the nemesis in line for the present wide open policy, and if said nemesis doesn't flop it will be because of this exposure made by The Herald. The support of either of these sheets would be harmful to our cause, and our greatest solicitude from now till election day will be to keep their blighting influence from falling upon the candidate of good government. We hope to be successful, yet nothing but eternal vigilance and this anticipation of their purposes can save the right.

A QUERY OR TWO.
"Judge West has practiced law for twenty years," shouts the First street rodenia. Yes, he is practicing now in a customs office. But if the Tribune speaks truly, and after twenty years of law practice we find the judge clerking for Charley Johnson and estimating the tariff on Canadian salt fish, wouldn't the make a rather scaly judge for the Zenith City of the Unlabeled Seas? Wouldn't an ordinary attorney in twenty years of diligent effort work up such a practice that the municipal judgeship would have no attractions for him? Perhaps the judge has been running for office most of the twenty years, and if so of course he hasn't been practicing much of the time. And when he practices in a customs office, isn't it fair to conclude that he does so for revenue only? We want to be generous in our remarks, and if the rodenia can correct any of our averments, giving reasons therefor, The Herald will not only make amendments but comes out squarely for Judge West as amended.

HE PULLED IT HIMSELF.
The morning nemesis has this gentle utterance today:

There is a patent arrangement on modern lamps whereby you pull a little string and out goes the light. The man who is pulling the string, such a string exists, or they don't know the string when they see it. The jerk it got last Saturday almost snuffed out the already feeble glim.

The business manager and editorial dictator of the morning nemesis and delinquent advertiser of the present administration once tried to pull that same string himself, but the light didn't go out and when the explosion was over the said nemesis manager landed a block away in a dugout where he is now boring a deeper hole.

AN EXPENSIVE MOVE.
Those who are supporting Two Faced Charley should bear in mind that if elected mayor he will order a double front to the city hall. Charley is ambitious with his mouth, and is promising the earth and the fullness thereof to all whom it may concern. We fully appreciate the audacity of his utterances, but it must be remembered while he is vocalizing that the bills are not audited in the auditorium. We have a good clean government in safe and vigorous hands. Vote for d'Auremont.

A DAVIS ADVOCATE.
This morning's nemesis contains a communication from a saboteur keeping urgency the election of Davis. Heretofore the nemesis has claimed the saloons were all for d'Auremont. What will Bro. George Spencer say to this? What will the several reverend gentlemen who have been advocating Davis and anathematizing the saloon, say? Several saloons that have been shown favors by the police and have kept open against the law claim that this administration is good enough for them. What do our good people think of it?

THE FULL TICKET.
In another column will be found a copy of the official ticket for the municipal election. Each ward will have its own aldermanic ticket, but in order that the voters in all parts of the city may have excuse for ignorance, the council ordered the entire list published as you see it till election day. The blank is for those who wish to write in the name of an independent candidate and the only effect of such voting is to bring a new party into the field at the next election. Such votes have no weight so far as the present contest is concerned.

ALL IN THE FAMILY.
One of the pleasant features of the campaign is the fact that Judge Roger S. West's table. This, however, would hardly qualify Judge West for the municipal bench and so long as it all the family anyway, everybody might just as well vote for Roger and not take Isaac from his custom aerie duties.

THEY DO MOVE.
We've got 'em on the run, and the reason they run is because they can't fly.

It is rumored that the Tribune tried to sell out to the democratic leaders last Saturday—the day it said nothing for Long. The price was very moderate, but the d'Auremont managers have no fund for such purpose, and the Tribune was urged to keep on in its present course as the democratic nominee. The Tribune's support is a calamity to any candidate, as Charley Long will soon learn to his own sorrow. Its advocacy is an insult to every honest toiler.

Joseph Mannheim called at The Herald's office yesterday to thank us for kindly mention, and in reply to the question "Who is going to be mayor?" said:
"Why, my dear boy, just pin it in you-that Joe Mannheim will be the next mayor of Duluth." He was then asked who would come out second, and assured us that Charley Long would do so. This is the worst prophecy we have heard for the uncrowned Cesar. When Joseph has confidence, then other people give up hope.

The statement that "the democratic stockholders of The Herald told the republican editor he must support d'Auremont or lose his job," will rank in fiction close to Jules Verne's "Two Thousand Leagues Under the Sea." Still it is a good deal more than two thousand leagues from the truth. As a matter of fact the editor swears by St. Jackson and the stockholders, not having any saint, don't swear at all.

The Long forces feel that the Tribune's support, with its present attitude toward union labor, is bringing upon them irretrievable ruin, and are struggling to have that office squared with the union printers before the campaign closes. This is only the death rattle of a rat and will do no good. The toiling masses will not be deceived.

If our friend, Nathaniel Americus Gearhart thinks he is just running for municipal judge in his own ward, we fear he will be numbered among the missing when the smoke of battle clears away. The only hope for the republican ticket is Gearhart, and his election would outweigh nearly everything else.

A gentleman who had intended to vote for Davis and his wide-open policy happened in the Palladio building the other day, and when he saw the class of fellows that went in to the wide-open headquarters he wandered down near a water hydrant and there silently and solemnly made oath he would vote for d'Auremont.

THE REASON OF THE ORDER.

It is understood that the order sent around last Thursday night closing all saloons at 11 o'clock was for a definite purpose. Charley Long, it is said, had been remonstrating with certain government men for their support, one of his arguments being that the present administration is run on a wide open policy.
This, it seems, was doubted, and Charley arranged to pilot the good men around after the legal closing hour, to convince them. A hint of this having reached the municipal powers that be, the word went round for all saloons to be closed at 11 o'clock. So Charley's tour was not made that night, and yet in this case we come to praise, not to bury Caesar.

E. L. Winje, candidate for special municipal judge, is just back from St.
Paul, where he has been with cases before the supreme court, and will now make a lively campaign till the polls close. The race between him and N. A.
Gearhart promises to be a close one and the result depends very much on the effectiveness of the canvass. The Herald will act as prompter and umpire in the straight-away spin.

The News, otherwise known as the nemesis, defends a wide open policy of all night liquor selling on the Point, with assignment houses sandwiched in between our best business blocks, and saloons open on Sunday. The Herald protests against this wide open business.

The wide-open News is bory-eyed and sees lots of folks where there are any. It counts its followers like it did the gentlemen at Boyle's who weren't there. Barring the consomme, the News isn't in it.

Joe Helm is generally deemed the most representative candidate for alderman in the Sixth ward. The ship of state needs some sort of Helm and we hope Joseph will be in it at the round up.

Victory is perched upon our banner.
If the election were held tomorrow d'Auremont would be a winner. The ticket is pulling like a porous plaster. It heats every political wound.

There were only a few more hearers than speakers at the alliance rally in the court house Monday night. The people read The Herald and don't need much outside advice.

The morning nemesis, whose editorial utterances are dictated by a gentleman wholly without newspaper experience, is as devoid of argument as it is of truth.

It is necessary to beat Charley Long, and the way to do it is by voting for d'Auremont who will stop the present unlicensed sale of liquors.

That organ of Sunday desecration and all-night liquor selling, the morning nemesis, is leading the Davis forces into a "wide-open" trap.

It is getting to be pretty hard sledding already, but not so hard as it will be next Tuesday for those who don't vote d'Auremont.

The d'Auremont procession has captured the town and is now moving along the boulevard looking for other world's to conquer.

Jimmy Dingwall is running like a digger Indian in the First ward, and some think he's a winner.

C. d'Auremont will be the next mayor and the present wide open policy will be closed out at cost.

Silence may be golden all right enough, but you can't pay your political debts in it.

The News advocates assignment houses as an adjunct to good government.

It's hard to say whether it will be T.
W. Baldwin or M. R. Hugo in the Fourth ward.

The last registration day is past and now the work is to get out the voters.

As Others See Us
(Duluth Tribune, Jan. 27, 1892.)

The Duluth Weekly Herald appears as a 40-page midwinter annual this week and contains a recapitulation of all our industries for the past year, and is replete with interesting and valuable information, interspersed with many new and handsome cuts relative to this bounding city and its tributary territory.
It is in every way a creditable production and is an attractive and eloquent advertisement for Duluth.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pauline Hall Delights Another Large Audience.—A Double Bill Tonight.

"Madame Favart" was repeated at the Lycium last night to nearly as large a house as that of the opening evening. If anything the performance was better done than on Monday. It was smoother in detail and from start to finish never flagged for a moment. All that was said of Miss Hall could be repeated if it were necessary. But it is not. Her place in the hearts of Duluthians is too well established now to need praise.
Miss Reed last evening received a better recognition of her meritorious work than on Monday. Her solo with chorus and the opening of the second act were warmly endorsed and here as at several other places Miss Reed showed how excellent her abilities were.

Tonight "Trial by Jury" Sullivan's amusing skit and Offenbach's "La Belle Helene" will be given. Mr. Miller, who has done such good work as Cougnac takes the leading tenor role and Miss Reed the soprano, in the former. In the latter Miss Hall and Messrs. Brand, Boniface and Blaisdell are all seen to the best advantage. The comedy is broader in Helene than in "Madame Fa-vart" and the music lighter. These points with the handsome way it is mounted and dressed insure another success for the company.

MR. BLAINE IN BOSTON.

Great Improvement in His Appearance.

Will Commodore Howell's Advice Be Followed?

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Nervous Disease Gone.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 26.—Secretary Blaine's appearance when he passed through this city on his way to Washington at the end of the summer created an impression.

It was evident that his health was improved. He did not look like a man who had rheumatism or who had suffered from neuralgia or nervous trouble. He looked better and was evidently in better spirits than when he passed through here before on his way to Maine.

A reporter found a very general expression of congratulation among Mr.
Blaine's admirers, and more than one Physician used the opportunity to express the opinion that Mr.
Blaine's marked improvement was due to the simple treatment recommended to Mr. Blaine last season by Commodore Howell.

It is hoped that Mr. Blaine will continue this treatment at Washington. It is feared by some of his admirers here that he will again overwork, relying upon his improved health to carry him through, as though he were a younger man.

Physicians will be remembered that the Com-modore's advice was to use the celebrated Paine's celery compound, which,
as the Globe says, the many physicians who prescribe it regularly declare, does positively and permanently cure not only nervous debility and exhaustion, but the only sure and harmless and pleasant specific known for the relief of those diseases that arise from impure blood and impaired nervous strength.

In the cure of these troubles, nervous debility, rheumatism and kidney troubles, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this remarkable remedy that the eminent Edward E. Phelps, M. D., L.
D., of Dartmouth college, discovered.

It has cured thousands, and the world owes more to the professor's discovery than to any physician of his time.

One of the foremost of medical authorities, he recognized that the basis of health is strong nerves and pure blood.
His prescription, therefore, guaranteed that there is nothing else so good.

And the pure, healthful and strength giving remedy has fortunately been put within the reach of all classes of people, and many a poor family has saved years of doctor's bills by keeping Paine's celery compound in the house.

A LARGE REGISTRATION

The Returns After Yesterday's Registration Show Qualified 6000 Voters in the City.

What Effect the Heavy Registration Will Have Upon the Chances of the Several Candidates.

The Campaign Not a Noisy but a Decidedly Energetic One; General Political News.

The returns from the last day's registration show that the campaign though a quiet one is nevertheless decidedly energetic and also that the United States has not been naturalizing citizens for nothing. The figures for the various precincts are as follows:

First Ward.	Two days.	Total.
First Precinct.	26	138
Second "	21	53
Third "	71	93

Analysis of the figures given above will show that the campaign though a quiet one is nevertheless decidedly energetic and also that the United States has not been naturalizing citizens for nothing. The figures for the various precincts are as follows:

The heavy increase in the Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth wards, in the main, has been expected. It is here that there was about the only place where the vote would be greatly increased by the increased registration. The heaviest gain in the Third ward and here the votes will go almost solidly against Long. As between Davis and Autremont, the latter will count on receiving a large share of these registered voters. In the Fourth ward the same is true, but the division of the new votes between Davis and Autremont would promise to be more equal. In the Fifth and Sixth wards the gain was unexpected. It is here that Davis is expected to develop his greatest strength. The registration in these wards yesterday was nearly 300 and of this number a great share will probably go to Davis. In the First ward the increase was not so marked as in the others and the vote in this case is expected to be divided fairly evenly. As a whole the registration is taken as being favorable to the chances of Autremont. He is making a strong and popular candidate and is able to rally the full vote of his party. For Long it is as bad as could be. From present appearances it is regarded as doubtful if political prophets if he polls more than 200 or 300 votes. The registration would indicate a vote of nearly 2000 heavier than at the last city election and an indication of the interest which is being taken in the coming campaign.

There is another factor of interest in connection with the registration. Before the next election it is probable that four new precincts will have to be created as that many have a registration largely in excess of the number of votes allowed any one precinct by the law.

The republican campaign is evidently to be one of education. Mass meetings are to be held galore. They can do no harm, however, and will serve to advance the candidates. One was held at Svea hall last night which was well attended.

THEIR LAST HOPE.

Brief Resume of the Inauguration and Collapse of De Lesseps' Utopian Scheme.

A Final Effort Now Under Way to Resume the Work Through Government Assistance.

Stockholders Still Cherish the Fond Hope that the Enterprise May Yet Prove Successful.

PARIS, Jan. 28.—It is expected that a report will soon be made to the chamber on the subject of government assistance in the completion of the Panama canal.

To understand the present situation it is requisite to state that the 93 years' concession of the canal granted by the Colombian government in May, 1878, stipulated for the opening of the canal within 12 years. In 1881 M. de Lesseps formed his Panama Canal company which stopped payment and suspended operations in 1888. The amount of capital raised by that now bankrupt company amounted, according to the liquidator, to 1,320,000,000 francs. Almost the whole of this enormous capital was furnished by the small capitalists, the pettiest of whom placed blind confidence in M. de Lesseps, and who saw in the enterprise another colossal success similar to that of the Suez.

Soon after the discomfiture of M. de Lesseps the company the judicial liquidator with the support of the government sent a technical commission to the isthmus of Panama to determine whether it would be possible to complete the work. This commission at the head of which was the celebrated engineer M. Guillemin, declared in its report that there was no insurmountable obstacle to the completion of the canal with locks. The capital required for that work was estimated at 600,000,000 francs.

In the meantime M. Napoleon Bonaparte Wyse was sent by the judicial liquidator to negotiate with the Colombian government for the prolongation of the time originally fixed for the opening of the canal. This was obtained in 1890. The Colombian government granted a further delay of 10 years for the opening of the canal on condition that the bankrupt company should hand over all its assets, plant and rights to a new company to be constituted for the completion of the canal, and that the new company should resume the canal work on Feb. 28, 1893, at latest.

If, then, the proposed new company is not formed within the next 12 months, the concession will lapse and the Panama canal stockholders will be deprived of their last hope. It is on these grounds that the stockholders expect an early recommendation in favor of carrying the work to completion.

SLANDERED HIS COMPANY.

An Irate Theatrical Manager Makes Things Lively for a Dakota Editor. PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 28.—The city editor of the Capital, had a knock-down fight yesterday with Don C. The latter have gone over into the coded Sioux reservation lands and warrants have not yet been served.

EVERYBODY JOYOUS.

Universal Satisfaction Over the Peaceable Ending of the War Scare. WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—There is almost unanimous expression of satisfaction in congress over the peaceable ending of the threatening hostilities with Chile. Congressmen generally, irrespective of party, commended the course of President Harrison and Secretary Blaine and treat the matter as a settled thing. Everywhere are heard expressions that the controversy has been productive of good results in saving the unity of the American people where the honor and dignity of the flag and the protection of American citizens is concerned, and the words of the President in his message of today referring to the patriotic feeling developed through the incident are warmly endorsed.

THIRD WARD POLITICS.

Some Reflection that Will be Read With Interest in that Sub-division. Alex. S. Wilson, at the request of the business men of the Third ward, accepted the democratic nomination for alderman of that ward. Mr. Wilson is a young man, well educated and for the larger part of his life in Duluth. He is vitally interested in the material welfare and development of this city. He is especially interested in the Third ward and is just the man to intelligently look after the affairs of his constituents in that section of the city. Mr. Wilson is a broad-gauged fellow and if elected will make the municipality of Duluth an active and energetic one. He is the Duluth representative of the Boston Investment and Massachusetts Real Estate companies. He is a Duluth man every inch of him and the choice of a large number of the best and most progressive business men in the city. He is honest, capable, young, wide-awake and vigorous. Vote for him. Mr. Wilson is a type of that class of pushing young men who are forcing Duluth and the great Northwest into world-wide prominence, and his candidacy should be favorably received.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The President today sent to congress the additional correspondence in the Chile matter. In the message transmitting the correspondence the President says: "The response of Mr. Perira withdraws, with acceptable expressions of regret, the offensive note of Mr. Matta of the 11th ultimo and also the request for the recall of Minister Egan. The treatment of the incident of the assault upon the Baltimore sailors is also so conciliatory and friendly that I am of the opinion there is a good prospect that any differences growing out of that serious affair can now be adjusted upon terms satisfactory to this government by the usual methods, and without special powers from congress. This turn in the affair is very gratifying to me as I am sure it will be to the congress and our people."

Chile's answer to the President's ultimatum is as follows: "Without any intention of opening a discussion as to the facts referred to by the communication, the undersigned must state to your excellency that the government of Chile does not regret with the government of the United States finds reason to continue to regard the incident of October 15, 1891, as a hostile act, and that the sailors of the United States who were towards the uniform of the United States. The unfortunate occurrence took place on a sudden, a district where the sailors are in the habit of assembling without distinction of nationality. "The undersigned can assert that the cause of the attack was not a hostile feeling towards the uniform of the navy of the United States, because the people of Chile have always esteemed and respected that uniform ever since the time when it saw its figures honorably in the ranks of the soldiers and sailors who in a great struggle gave it independence and established the republic. "The preliminary examination was commenced on the morning which followed the night of the conflict some days before you presented your complaint, but the investigation could not be finished with the rapidity that the government of Chile desired, because the ranks of procedure in criminal matters, which are established by our laws are of slow application and was not possible to modify or set them aside. This delay which was inevitable, owing to the independence with which the judicial authorities must act has compelled the government to the difficulty of pending with your government and a spontaneous offer of reparation for any injury done to the sailors of the United States. "In view of your communication and considering that up to date it has been impossible for the trial initiated by the judge of the criminal court of Valparaiso to be decided, the undersigned regards it as his duty to submit once more to the government of Chile the lament of the occurrence of Oct. 16, and by way of showing the sincerity of his feeling and the confidence which he has in the justice of his cause, he declares his willingness not to await the decision of the examining judge and proposes to the United States government that the case be submitted to the consideration of the supreme court of justice at Washington, at the end that that high tribunal, with its learning and impartiality, may determine without appeal whether there is any ground for reparation and in what shape it should be made. "The undersigned hopes that the foregoing will convince the honorable secretary of state that the government of Chile attaches due importance to the question now under discussion; that he does not for a moment hesitate to condemn in vigorous terms, the act committed on Oct. 16 or to offer such reparation as is just. "As for the dispatch addressed under date of Dec. 11, to the Chilean minister in Washington by the minister of foreign relations of the provisional government, the undersigned submits that there could not be on the part of the government of Chile the purpose to inflict any offense upon the government of the United States with which it desires ever to cultivate the most friendly relations. Consequently the undersigned deprecates that in the telegram there were employed through an error of judgment the expressions which are offensive in the judgment of your government. Declaring the fulfillment of a high duty of courtesy and sincerity towards a friendly nation that the government of Chile absolutely withdraws the said expressions, the undersigned trusts that this frank and explicit declaration, which confirms that which had already been made to the honorable secretary of state in Washington, will carry to the mind of his excellency, Mr. Harrison, that the government of Chile, far from entertaining a feeling of hostility has the desire to maintain unalterable the good relations which up to the present time exist between the two countries—a declaration which is made without reservation."

Dr. Shutter is quite well known in the Northwest as one of the most eloquent platform orators in the West. He is a student who has made the works of the world's master poet the subject of the closest and most thorough and intelligent investigation. The doctor is a bright and witty speaker as well as a profound one and will doubtless deliver an enjoyable address. His lecture will be the seventh of the regular course and should be largely attended. Admission 25 cents.

Another Unfortunate.

George Powers was the only unfortunate who was unable to withstand the temptations thrown in his way by the present "wide-open" policy. Through no fault of his own he was in this morning as a plain drunk, but could not convince the judge that the above view of the case was the correct one, which was only another evidence to him that the present administration "must go."

Watch Your Butter.

The suit of the Armour Butterine company vs. J. A. Lawrence begun some time ago in the United States court to recover the possession of $2,852 worth of butterine has been dismissed by the plaintiff. Some time in November, Lawrence acting for the state seized the artificial butter in question and held it. The company at once reprieved it and began suit for its recovery. The seizure in the mean time has been declared illegal and the property restored. The suit was therefore dismissed and the market will not suffer for choice fresh butter.
